YOUNG WOMAN STRANGELY DROPS FROM SIGHT

ACCUSES HYDE OF CAUSING DEATH OF SWOPE

Physician Formally Charged With Murder by an Attorney

ACCUSED MAN GOES ON A HASTY JOURNEY

Doctor Agrees to Surrender Himself at Prosecutor's Office

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 10.—A warrant for the arrest of Dr. B. C. Hyde, charged with the murder of Colonel Swope, was sworn to by Prosecutor Conkling at 3:15 o'clock before Justice of the Peace Loar at Independence. It was based upon the information previously filed by J. G. Paxton, charging murder in the first degree. Mr. Conkling immediately started for Kansas City, ten miles away, to serve the warrant.

Meanwhile Dr. Hyde and his attorneys started for the prosecutor's office to accept service.

Ball had been arranged for by Hyde and it was considered probable he would be released promptly.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 10.—Judge Ralph S. Latschaw of the criminal court today instructed the county marshal to impel a special grand jury to convene Saturday morning to investigate the death of Colonel Thomas H. Swope.

Virgil Conkling, prosecuting attorney, probably will await the action of the grand jury before ordering an arrest in the case.

The grand jury will go into every phase of the mystery. The inquiry will not be confined to the death of Colonel Swope, but will include the death of Chrisman Swope and the epidemic of illness in the Swope household. Following the deaths of the two elder Swope, nine members of Mrs. Logan O. Swope's family were stricken with typhoid.

DOWN WITH TYPHOID.

Dr. B. C. Hyde, who had attended the typhoid patients, contracted the disease himself and had only sufficiently recovered to be able to attend the recent coroner's inquest. There was a new turn today in Dr. Hyde's suits for alleged libel. The case in which the physician asked $600,000 in damages from C. J. Paxton, the Swope executor, was dismissed by the circuit court at Independence. This action was prompted by the attorneys for Dr. Hyde, who desired to thwart an attempt of Paxton's lawyers to secure a deposition from the physician.

TO HOLD INQUEST.

The coroner, it was asserted, was planning to hold an inquest over the body of Chrisman Swope as soon as the chemists finished their examination of the organs of the nephew of Colonel Thomas H. Swope. This second inquest would be held, it was said, regardless of what the prosecutor might see fit to do.

In the meantime witnesses whose depositions were desired in the libel suits brought by Dr. B. C. Hyde were being sought by the attorneys for both sides of the case.

Direct Primary Bill Passes Illinois Senate

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 10.—A direct primary bill, which previously had passed the House, went through the Illinois Senate with a rush today.

NAILS DOOR AND WAITS THE END ALONE

Despondent Woman Makes a Desperate Effort to End Her Life.

SON BREAKS INTO ROOM IN TIME TO SAVE HER

Mrs. Annie Carte's Attempt at Suicide Foiled by His Arrival.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Stuffing up every crack and crevice which might admit the slightest breath of air, spreading a blanket over the door as an additional precaution, and driving nails through the panel to prevent a chance rescuer from saving her life, Mrs. Annie Carte attached a tube to the gas jet and lay down to die some time during the night. The woman, who is 51 years old, and has been residing at 1153 Stockton street, has been a sufferer from consumption for some years, and has despaired of ever regaining her health.

Her son, Henry, has been staying with her, and occupied an adjoining room. Her husband, Charles Carte, is a well known merchant of Redding. Last night Henry noticed that his mother seemed depressed and determined to watch her. Several times he tiptoed to her door during the night, but failed to notice anything wrong. Early this morning a slight odor of gas attracted his attention, and procuring a pass key, he unlocked the door.

SHE NAILS THE DOOR.

It still resisted his efforts to get in, and aided by a scantling, he finally broke in. With all his strength, and aided by a scantling, he finally broke in and discovered his mother lying unconscious. The Harbor ambulance was sent for and the woman was rushed to the hospital, where Dr. Montgomery, after working over her for some time, gave it as his opinion that she would recover.

Inside the room evidence could be seen of the determination of Mrs. Carte that nothing should frustrate her effort at suicide. She had probably spent at least two hours in plugging up holes and crevices with cotton, as well as nailing the door. She left two notes, one for her husband, written in French, and the other to the son in English. Both contain practically the same message and that to Henry reads as follows:

"Soon you will find my body. Get a policeman. He will notify the coroner. Always take good care of yourself, and do not get sick. Good bye.—Mama."

Pinchot Declares Prospects Are Poor

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Prospects for conservation are not encouraging at present, according to Gifford Pinchot, who is now in New York. "Only the drive of a concerted public opinion is going to carry this conservation movement along," he said. "It has met the most formidable body of resistance that could have been encountered—the power of organized wealth and the power of organized politics. Nothing less than a nationwide movement will carry it through."

INCENDIARY FIRE COMES AFTER THE THREATS

Firebug's Work Destroys a Bungalow at Fruitvale in Night.

NEIGHBORS DECLARE THAT BOYDS WERE MENACED

Former Occupants Were Often Threatened, Declare Residents.

A fire believed to have been of incendiary origin completely destroyed a $4000 bungalow owned by J. M. Boyd at Thirty-ninth avenue and the Boulevard in Fruitvale early this morning and caused a damage of $1500 to the home of Henry Howland adjoining. The bungalow was empty at the time, the Boyds having moved out about a week ago and gone to Reno. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howland were asleep in their home while their house and the bungalow were burning, and it was not until the firemen from the Melrose fire company broke in the doors of the house that they were awakened. At this time the bungalow was a mass of flames and the roof of the Howland house was burning.

From all reports which can be gathered in the neighborhood Boyd moved from the bungalow a week ago following alleged threats which were said to have been made to burn the house. The neighbors state that on several occasions Mrs. Boyd hinted to them that her house might be burned at any time and that they intended to move before the fire occurred.

BLAZE STARTS AT NIGHT.

According to the Howlands no one was seen about the house either yesterday or last evening and it is believed that the incendiary, whoever he may have been, called and commenced his operations late last night after the neighbors had taken to their beds.

The two houses, the bungalow and Howland's place, stand somewhat apart from the other houses in the neighborhood and in a section which would not be frequented by tramps in the habit of sleeping in empty houses. Tramps and road walkers generally shun the boulevard and take to East Fourteenth street owing to the number of philanthropic saloon keepers along the latter road and few of them have ever been seen in the neighborhood of the fire.

MYSTERIOUS ALARM.

The firemen are of the opinion that oil had been poured on the woodwork of the bungalow as the building was a mass of flames when the fire companies arrived at the scene. An alarm was turned in but no one can be found who did this service or who knows of him who did it. Three companies responded to the call, the Melrose company and companies No. 1 and 3 of Fruitvale.

It was found necessary to stretch a hose 1800 feet from the hydrant to the blaze and when this was done a sufficient pressure of water could not be obtained. For this reason it was only after energetic work on the parts of the fire fighters that the Howland house was saved from total destruction.

An investigation will be made of the matter and an effort put forth to determine the reason for the threats against Boyd and the makers of them.

Italy Buys American Wood for Aeroplanes

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—From the Italian government President Courtland Field Blagden of the Aero Club of America received today a request to ship to Italy a cargo of American spruce to be used in the construction of aeroplanes for the Italian army. Several Italian woods have been tried for aeroplane building, the communication said, but none is equal to American spruce for strength and durability.

Robnett, recently tried at the Charlestown Navy Yard, Boston, on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman in connection with an assault on Dr. Edward Spencer Cowles at a navy dance.

While no official announcement has been made naval officers in Washington are practically unanimous in the opinion that numbers which the court recommended should be lost in the case of Paymaster Auld will be remitted. A severe reprimand, however, is looked for.

It is not believed that the court has found Surgeon Robnett guilty.

GIRL GOES TO MAKE CALL; FAILS TO RETURN

Alma Carmin Mysteriously Disappears and Mother is Distracted

NO LOVE AFFAIR AND NO TROUBLE AT HER HOME

Parent Looks Daily for Return of Daughter, but no Word Comes

"I am at a loss to understand Alma's actions. She was always a good girl. Oh, why don't she come back," wailed the mother. "I have been here all alone most of the time and in thinking of it I have almost gone wild. The mystery of her disappearance has upset me and I have at times feared for what it might lead me to do. I emptied all the bottles containing poison that were about the house and have tried to think differently over the matter, but I cannot. She must be all right, but why does she not return?"

And that is the question. If Alma Corwin is well and in the vicinity of the bay cities, why does she not relieve the anxiety of her broken-hearted mother?

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY.

Mystery surrounds the disappearance of Alma Corwin, aged twenty-three, who left her home in this city January 12, in company with another young woman stating that she was going to visit at the home of her friends' aunt in San Francisco.

That night she penned a note to her mother in which she stated that she had decided to leave home and would not return. She expressed no reason and her distracted mother is at a loss to understand what has become of her, and why it is that she has received no further word from her. Day after day since that time she has anxiously watched the mails in hopes of some clue that would inform her as to the girls' whereabouts.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC EMPLOYEE.

The missing girl is the daughter of Everett Corwin, an engineer in the employ of the Southern Pacific, with which company she also had been employed, in the ticket offices as a "student."

The last place she worked was at the Encinal station in Alameda where she was engaged as an "extra" during the absence of the regular agent. She was relieved Monday, January 11.

LEAVES HER HOME.

That evening a young woman friend visited at her home which was at that time at 1018 Wood street, her parents, since her disappearance, having moved to 1465 Lipse avenue, Fruitvale.

The next morning she informed her mother that she was going back to the Alameda office to secure some fancy work which she had left there, and then would go to the city in company with her girl friend where she would visit at the home of the young woman's aunt.

Since that time she has not been seen by her relatives. The mother was pronounced (Continued on Page 2.)

TRY TO PATCH UP FACTION ROW AT PRINCETON

University Trustees Hold Special Session in Effort to Adjust Differences.

SITE AND CONDUCT OF GRADUATE COLLEGE

Gift of $500,000 Made by Wm. Cooper Proctor is Finally Accepted.

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 10.—Determined to bring about harmony among the several factions, the trustees of Princeton University met in special session today to take up the question of site and administration of the graduate college, which have been a matter of controversy for some time.

The trustees accepted the report and unanimously accepted the recommendations of the special committee of five appointed to consult with Wm. Cooper Proctor in regard to his offer of $500,000 for a graduate college.

DIFFICULTIES ARISE.

The first inkling of the dispute was given in President Wilson's report of the board of trustees on January 13, which, after mentioning the fact that a $500,000 gift had been received last May from William Cooper Proctor, "of Cincinnati," with the proviso that an equal amount be raised by May 1, 1910, and that the "Prospect" site be abandoned and a site suitable to the donor be chosen, presented certain difficulties that have arisen in attempting to use that money and the bequest of Mrs. Josephine Thompson Swann, which now amounts to $300,000.

THE DIFFERENT REQUESTS.

The differences are: First—Mrs. Swann's will directs that the building for which her bequest was meant should be erected "upon the grounds of the said university." Second—Mr. Proctor contributed his gift for the purpose of providing a place of graduate residence which should be set apart exclusively for graduate students, while Mrs. Swann's will explicitly directs that the rooms in the John R. Thompson graduate college are to be rented "at the best price they will command" to graduates, senior and junior students of the university.

President Wilson doubts whether any building set apart for the exclusive occupancy of graduate students should be administered upon an income-bearing basis.

WITHDRAWS GIFT.

A special committee of five was appointed on January 13 by the board of trustees to consult further with Mr. Proctor and secure an adjustment of the difficulties, but in the meantime he withdrew his gift. It was on reading the book prepared by Dean Andrew of the graduate school, who is opposed to placing a graduate college on the campus and believes in a segregation of graduate students, that Proctor, his life-long friend, volunteered the gift.

DEMAND DEFENSES FOR NETHERLANDS

Germans Distrust Dutch Integrity in Event of Trouble With England.

THE HAGUE, Feb. 10.—Heretofore the report that Emperor William at one time threatened to occupy Holland unless that country was placed in a state of defense against the possible descent of the English were given more definite form in the first chamber of the states general yesterday during a discussion of foreign office estimates.

Baron von Heeckeren urgently demanded that steps be taken to secure a guaranty of the integrity of the Netherlands in the event of trouble between Germany and Great Britain, and gave as a reason, that a neighboring sovereign intimidated a few years ago that he would be obliged to have Dutch territory occupied if Holland did not place herself in an adequate state of defense against Great Britain.

Foreign Minister Van Sandtendorp declared he was in a position to refute Heeckeren's assertion, unless the latter explained precisely what was meant by the words "neighboring sovereign" and "intimidated." He urged Heeckeren, in the interest of the country, to be more explicit. The latter, however, had no more to say.

PROBING THE MYSTERIOUS DYNAMITE EXPLOSION AT THE BURKE SANATORIUM

Was It a Case of Attempted Suicide or Murder?—Dr. Burke Says It Was an Attempt at Self Destruction—Investigating Officers Suspect That Murder Was Planned

SANTA ROSA, Feb. 10.—District Attorney Clarence F. Lea is making a searching investigation into the mysterious explosion of a stick of dynamite in a tent on the grounds of the Burke Sanatorium, located on the hills six miles from this city, occupied by Miss Luella Smith and her eleven-month-old boy, on Saturday night, for the purpose of solving, it possible, the question as to whether it was done by the woman herself with an intent to destroy herself and her babe, or a deliberate attempt at murder on the part of someone interested in her removal.

The discovery of a piece of burned fuse three feet in length on the outside of the tent and that one of the boards of the flooring of the tent had been loosened and the tacks that held the canvas to the flooring removed for several inches on one side, has excited the suspicion that it was not an attempted suicide, but a deliberate attempt at murder. Whether the act was prompted by a desire at self-destruction or with intent to murder, it is the purpose of the investigation to determine.

The unfortunate woman will probably recover, as her chief injuries, aside from the shock, consist of burns, and lacerations on her face, left arm and back.

Dr. Burke, the proprietor of the sanatorium, claims that the young woman was not thoroughly responsible for her actions and that at times she would, without provocation, fly into a rage, at which times she would be violently insane. It is alleged that she had expressed a desire to have her committed to an asylum without the publicity which an investigation by insane commissioners would involve. Whenever that feature has been suggested he is said to have balked.

BURKE'S STATEMENT.

The history of Luella Smith's connection with his sanatorium as an inmate is thus described by Dr. Burke: "She came here ten years ago, when her mother died in Lake county, and I had her brought here to be cared for. I knew the family years ago. Her mother was insane. Her mind has always been weak. After being here a while she wanted to learn the bathroom work. She had been there but a short time when it became apparent that her violent temper would not allow of her continuing work there. She attacked the other attendants whenever any little thing aroused her temper in this matter."

"Several years ago she was sent to Berkeley to study. She was advanced $500 by Mrs. Dixon, my secretary, who also has charge of the publishing work here. We got out a paper, you know, here on the grounds. Among the gifts was found an envelope upon which, among other debts, was written a memorandum of the $500 owed Mrs. Dixon."

PATERNITY OF CHILD.

"It was while in Berkeley that she met the man who is the father of her child. She came here eleven months ago, or possibly a little longer, and the little boy was born soon after she arrived. I am sure that he is her son, for I have seen him believe in doing all I can for those who are in need of assistance. There are several people here who pay nothing for their treatment, board or lodging, but I allow them to stay here on the same basis. There are always insinuations and accusations against people conducting an institution such as this, but I pay no attention to them. I am paying little attention to accusations that have been made in this matter."

Miss Smith attributes the paternity of her infant to Dr. Burke, and she has named the boy Wilfred P. Burke Smith after him. On one occasion she is said to have entered the dining hall and, in the presence of the other patients, placed her baby boy in the arms of Dr. Burke with the exclamation, "Care of your own son," Dr. Burke says, however, that this is one of the woman's insane delusions.

When Dr. Burke was asked the direct question as to whether or no he is the father of the babe, he is said to have replied:

"I am a physician and physical father, but the woman has always looked up to me on account of my higher intelligence."

BURKE'S LETTERS.

One of the peculiar features of the case is that among the effects of the woman are a bunch of letters written by her to Dr. Burke which are now being examined by the district attorney. In them it is understood that frequently Dr. Burke was evidently supplying her with money.

A week ago Luella Smith went to the head nurse in the absence of Dr. Burke and asked her to care for her baby while he was away. The nurse, however, turned before stage time and wrote a note, which he caused to be delivered to the woman, stating that if Dr. Burke did not return by her departure did not come that day he would go to the mines that day and get it. This note was said to have been given to her, under the impression that she was to be given more money.

On Saturday night, which was one week previous to the explosion of the dynamite in the tent, Dr. Burke left unaccompanied by his secretary, Mrs. Dixon, returning on Wednesday.

Three nights after the explosion occurred.

SOURCE OF THE DYNAMITE.

One of the points that is puzzling the investigators is how the dynamite could have been placed in the tent. It is said that she had plotted her own destruction.

Dr. Burke is unable to explain this, while he holds firmly to the theory of attempted suicide.

Another point that has attracted the attention of the investigators is that Dr. Burke is reported to have frequently predicted the suicide of Luella Smith.

SUGGESTIONS OF SUICIDE.

On one occasion he confided in the head nurse and one of the doctors that he feared "Crazy Lou," as he called her, would take some of the drugs from the medicine chest with which to poison herself. It was immediately suggested by Dr. Hitt and Miss Smith, the head nurse, that this chest be kept locked, and this was done.

After that Burke expressed a fear that "Crazy Lou" would blow herself into smithy with a bomb of nitro-glycerine. It was explained to the doctor on this occasion that a crazy woman would find it difficult to place the detonation of medicinal nitro-glycerine.

Later Burke expressed another fear. This time it was that the woman was going to use dynamite for her self-destruction. It was about this time that several of the attendants detected the atmosphere of the Burke Sanatorium has gotten too sensational for comfort.

At the same time some of the new comers discovered that unusual things were frequently performed at the sanatorium, that were not calculated to enhance the good reputation of those connected with the institution. It is intimated that the investigation that is now going on may reveal an unusual condition of things at the test cure establishment.

UNREST AT THE SANATORIUM.

With these preceding circumstances there was an atmosphere of unrest at the rose-covered cottages of the sanatorium on last Saturday night. Since the explosion occurred at 3:30 o'clock that night, several of the attendants of the Burke Sanatorium have left the place for reasons which they have expressed to the district attorney. Even more remarkable than the fact that the explosion of the dynamite occurred in the week that preceded the explosion in Luella Smith's tent. Among those who have left the sanatorium recently are Dr. A. W. Hitt, whose connection with the institution has been of recent standing; Miss Smith, the head nurse; Chief Clerk Dillard and a male nurse by the name of Earl Edmonds. The patient whom Edmonds was attending died on Tuesday. Edmonds is understood to have declared his intention to leave some days previously.

OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION.
District Attorney Lea is making a thorough investigation of the mysterious explosion. He is being assisted by Sheriff John Smith and Deputy Sheriff Reynolds. This district attorney says he means to question every one about the place who has any knowledge of the circumstances of the explosion and the facts of Luella Smith's life at the sanatorium.

"I don't know what will be the outcome yet," said District Attorney Lea yesterday when called from the tent in which the investigation is being carried out secretly. "It's a strange case, and there may be developments. I can't say yet what will be done. I am satisfied that a crime has been committed, but before making specific charges further investigation is necessary."

An examination of the side of the tent that was dismantled showed yesterday that one of the battens boards had been removed at the side on which the explosion occurred, but evidently the charge of dynamite was not put in that way, as the tacks that fastened the canvas to the board flooring were found to have been taken out for a distance of three feet.

That in the opinion of the district attorney shows that someone deliberately planned to kill the girl, and that the enter the tent would not have been necessary had the girl tried to kill herself.

WHAT BURKE'S ASSISTANTS SAY.

At the investigation yesterday Mrs. Alfred Burke, sister-in-law of Dr. Burke, said she believed the Smith woman to be insane. She knew nothing of the dynamite. Cleve Burke, a nephew of Dr. Burke, was examined, but he knew nothing of the dynamite, except what he believed the woman insane, he said. Dr. Dessau appeared before the district attorney and stated he believed the girl to be weak-minded. He could give no information that shed any further light on the dynamite of the tent occupied by Luella Smith, according to the district attorney's report of the investigation. George Maxwell told of examining the tent after the explosion, and Mrs. Dixon, Dr. Burke's secretary, told that she had always considered Luella Smith insane.

TESTING LUELLA SMITH.
Neither Dr. Burke nor the injured woman were examined yesterday. However, District Attorney Lea visited the tent where Luella Smith is now confined and told her he had ascertained that Dr. Burke had nothing to do with the dynamite outrage. He made the statement to ascertain the feelings of the girl. The injured woman laughed aloud, clapped her hands and said: "Oh, I'm so glad, I'm so glad!"

POSSIBLE ARRESTS.

Deputy Sheriff Reynolds made many inquiries about the sanatorium, but says he secured little information of value in that manner. While he did not deny that arrests were expected, he said that he expected no arrests to be made within a day or two.

"I cannot say yet anything about possible arrests," he said. "There are strange things around here and I hope to find the bottom some time."

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS.

SANTA ROSA, Feb. 10.—District Attorney Lea said today that Luella Smith charged in a statement to him that she had been under the influence and control of a doctor for several years.

She said that he seemed to exercise a power over her which her mentality could not resist.

"I have not sufficient evidence as yet to place the matter before the grand jury," declared the district attorney, "but I am convinced that it was not a case of attempted suicide."

"There is plenty of evidence to indicate a crime, but there is nothing to connect anyone with it in a direct manner."

"We are investigating now to learn how and where the dynamite was obtained and taken to the sanatorium."

The woman made the direct charge to the district attorney that a certain doctor was the father of her child.

Dr. Burke, head of the institution, hooded at the idea and said that it had been charged before by the woman as the result of a form of insanity from which she suffered.

POLICEMEN TO PRACTICE FOR REVOLVER CONTEST

The crack shots in the Oakland police department are preparing for the contest which will begin in the early part of next month and continue until late in the fall months. Arrangements have been made to hold the practice events at the targets in Steelmen's park in previous years. Three medals already have been donated to the department to be awarded to those making the highest scores.

The medal for the first place was given by A. L. Ott, a manufacturer of San Francisco, who is an enthusiast on revolver shooting. The second medal is from W. M. Jenkins of 408 Twelfth street, while George Falk handled in the third place. Nick Williams, the veteran on the force and one of the best shots in the department, is instructor on target practice and score keeper. There is talk of challenging the San Francisco department to a contest at the targets. Several years ago such an event was pulled off and the blue-coats from across the way were defeated by the local team.

MORTON NAMED TO COURT OF EDWARD

It is Rumored Will Succeed Whitelaw Reid as Diplomat in London.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—It was rumored today in high diplomatic circles that the British embassy has transmitted to the State Department the acceptability of Paul Morton, former secretary of the navy, and now president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, for the American ambassadorship in London. Developments during the last week in the international field have been such as to make it imperative for this government to appoint Whitelaw Reid's successor at once instead of waiting indefinitely, as had been planned by the President.

REID'S SUCCESSOR.

Paul Morton was born in Detroit, May 22, 1857. At the age of 15 he entered the employ of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. Beginning as clerk in the land office at Burlington he rose rapidly, serving as assistant general freight agent and general passenger agent and ending as general freight agent. In 1890 he resigned his position to become vice-president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company.

RAILROAD CAREER.

In 1895 President Ripley of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway purchased him as general freight agent in the new city of Topeka, Kan., and he remained there until 1904, when he was named third vice-president of the Santa Fe system.

In two years he rose to be second vice-president. On July 1, 1904, he was appointed by President Roosevelt as secretary of the navy. He served in this position one year, resigning in July, 1905, to accept the presidency of the Equitable Life Assurance Company.

MORTON NOT NOTIFIED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Paul Morton, when seen at his home in this city last evening, said:

"I have not been tendered the ambassadorship to London to succeed Mr. Reid. There is any suggestion of it, I know nothing whatever of it. This is the first intimation I have had that any such report was in circulation."

AERONAUTS ARRANGING PLACE OF TOURNAMENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—A decision as to where the international aeronaut and balloon tournament will be held in this country (the fall probably) will be reached Monday, when the Board of Field Officers, president of the Aero Club of America, will have a conference with the President and try to arrange for the President's attendance. Washington, Denver, St. Louis and several other cities have put in bids for the meeting.

NEW FERRY FOR OAKLAND TRAVEL

Southern Pacific Plans Steel Boats for Trans-Bay Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—For traffic from Oakland to San Francisco two new ferry boats have been designed by the Southern Pacific and will be built as soon as possible. The new boats are of all-steel construction, fireproof, and with double compound engines operating independent side propeller wheels. Side propellers are used on account of the discovery that the "Berkeley," the only large screw propeller boat on the bay, is unmanageable in the slip, although the small Key Route boats can well be made with the rear propeller. The new ferries will have unobstructed main decks and no freight or automobiles will be carried aboard. The boats will be about the size of the Newark or Piedmont, but will be faster and more powerful.

With an expenditure of over half a million dollars in elevating bridges and doing complete levees about the Feather River and Yuba, the Southern Pacific feels fairly sure that the damage usually occurring in this region on account of spring freshets will this year be eliminated. As a result of floods in this neighborhood last year the company lost about $400,000, and traffic was held up for some time.

JOCKEY KILLS WIFE THEN SHOTS HIMSELF

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Believing that his wife, Loretta, no longer loved him and that he was dying of consumption, Joe Harbin, a jockey well known on every racetrack in the country, decided to end his troubles last night. Meeting his wife between Forty-first and Forty-second streets in Eleventh avenue, as she was on her way home from work just after 6 o'clock, Harbin shot her through the head. She was instantly killed and hardly had her body fallen to the sidewalk when Harbin, placing the weapon in his mouth, pulled the trigger and dropped to the ground by her side, unconscious.

CROOKS MERRY; POLICE MYSTIFIED

While Department Investigates Itself Criminals Hold High Carnival.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 10.—While the police department has been busy for the last three weeks investigating itself, because of a shortage of between $17,500 and $25,000 in the relief association funds, criminals have been having a merry time. For the twenty-one days ending last night 728 robberies have been entered on the police records. Included in the list of crimes for the period are 149 burglaries, 167 robberies by sneak thieves and 23 highway robberies.

The examination of the books of the relief fund is not yet completed. Discovery of several promissory notes for large amounts and signed with the names of men high in the department, has placed these men on the defective. They claim the signatures are forgeries.

John Haley, secretary of the Relief Fund, is Mrs. Henry Roberts to answer February 23 any charge that may be made against him.

IGNORANCE RESPONSIBLE FOR MISERY SAYS DOCTOR

Under the title, "The Scientific Aspect of the Education of Children," the Oakland Club this afternoon heard Dr. Frances M. Greene, president of the California State Medical Association, at the club headquarters in Pythian temple, 1414 Broadway. Dalton received for the afternoon.

Ignorance, declared Dr. Greene, was the cause of much of the suffering, both mental and physical, among men and women, and she said the mothers of the nation were more anxious to determine the financial condition rather than the physical well being of husbands for their daughters. She stated that, under the auspices of large medical and scientific associations of the United States and of foreign lands, a movement was on foot for a more complete education of the young with respect to the perpetuation of the race and the elimination of disease.

This movement, she said, was to be extended through the schools and the universities, and also carried into the factories and department stores.

WHY YOU ARE THIN; HOW TO GET FLESHY.

Discusses Causes of Thinness and Gives New Method of Increasing Weight and Bounding Out the Form.

Prescription Accomplishes Wonders.

A treatment which anyone can prepare cheaply at home, has been found to increase the weight, improve the health, round out scrawny figures, improve the bust, brighten the eyes and put its color into the cheeks and lips of anyone who is too thin and bloodless. It puts flesh on those who have been always thin whether from disease or natural tendency, on those who by heavy eating and diet have in vain tried to increase, on those who cannot get fat, and is a powerful aid to digestion, regulates the assimilation of food, cleanses the blood and nerves to distribute all over the body the flesh elements contained in food, and gives to thin persons the same absorbing qualities possessed by the naturally fleshy.

Everybody is about the same, but certain elements and organs of blood and nerves are deficient and until this is corrected, thin people will stay thin. The nutrition stays in the body after separation by the digestive functions. Instead of passing through unaltered, when this valuable treatment of blended medicines is used, practically no one can remain thin who uses it, for it supplies the long felt need.

Mix in a half pint bottle, three ounces of essence of peppermint, and three ounces of syrup of rhubarb. Then add one ounce compound essence cardiol, Shaker's Castile soap, two hours. Then add one ounce of tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom). Shake well and take a teaspoonful before and after meals. Drink plenty of water between meals and when retiring. Weigh before beginning.

Everybody is about the same, but certain elements and organs of blood and nerves are deficient and until this is corrected, thin people will stay thin. The nutrition stays in the body after separation by the digestive functions. Instead of passing through unaltered, when this valuable treatment of blended medicines is used, practically no one can remain thin who uses it, for it supplies the long felt need.

SEEKING CAUSE OF DEATH MYSTERY

Chemists Trying to Find the Reason of a Professor's Demise.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 10.—The chemical test of the viscera of the late Professor J. T. Vaughn, who died suddenly at Kirksville last October, was begun last night by Professor Paul Schweitzer of the medical faculty of the University of Missouri. The test will require ten days or more, as all the organs will be tested separately.

Professor Schweitzer will be assisted by Professor M. N. Miller in making the analysis, and no person not authorized by them to enter the room where the viscera are kept will be permitted in that part of the building. The jars in which the Vaughn viscera have been kept have been hidden in the building since Saturday.

"Dr. Paul Schweitzer said last night: 'The test will be made under as nearly perfect conditions as we can obtain. Large amounts of poison are easily detected, but smaller amounts require very careful methods. The amount of poison, if any, in the organs will naturally determine the length of time required to make the test.'"

MOTT AND BELSHAW ARE NOW IN A REAL FIGHT

Antioch Man Accused of Denouncing Heney. Daniel Sullivan a Formidable Candidate for State Printer

An effort is being made by some of Senator Belshaw's friends to try and sidetrack Mayor Frank K. Mott for the Lincoln-Roosevelt League nomination for governor. The Chronicle this morning had a rather adroit article carrying the head line, "Mott Agrees to Support Belshaw." The article then goes on to say: "Early yesterday afternoon former State Senator Charles Belshaw of Antioch was the first choice of the executive committee of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League for governor, and it was announced that the league, at its meeting next Tuesday, would so announce. It was further said that an amicable and most satisfactory settlement had been made with Mayor Frank K. Mott's attitude, by which Mott would make an active canvass for Belshaw in the event of the latter being nominated. A committee waited on Mott and questioned him relative to his course should Belshaw receive the league nomination instead of Oakland's mayor. 'I will take off my coat and go to work for him,' was the mayor's earnest reply. The committee retired fully satisfied with the outcome of the interview."

Anyone interested in politics, and knowing the political situation is aware of the fact that the above article is unimpeachable. Those on the inside know that Mayor Mott is actually neck and heels with Belshaw for the Lincoln-Roosevelt League nomination, and in all probability, Mott will be selected by the delegates next Tuesday. The article in the Chronicle is purely an attempt to try and drive some of Mott's friends away from him by cleverly worded statements to the effect that Mott has not had any conference with Belshaw's friends. On the contrary, the mayor's friends are pushing his fight along every day until now, they claim, it is in splendid condition.

BELSHAW'S ATTACK ON HENEY.

On the other hand, the Call has an article bearing the heading "Belshaw's talk against Heney angers league." The article then goes on to say: "That an enthusiastically avowed hostility to Francis J. Heney and grafting attacks upon the graft prosecutor have put Charles Belshaw out of the running as a Lincoln-Roosevelt League candidate for Governor, is the contention of prominent leaguers who are renewing the attempt to force former mayor William R. Davis, of Oakland, into the race. One of the reasons for the unbending hostility of some of the Southern-California leaguers to Belshaw has come to the surface. Some of the leaguers, who a week ago were trying to stifle any talk about Belshaw's attack on Heney, have taken another tack now. They are permitting the glad tidings to go forth and are now at some pains to see that they go into the right channel. Belshaw told that if Heney were nominated for Governor he would take the stump against him. Heney, according to Belshaw, was an agitator, a disturber of business, and generally a false alarm who was hounding a lot of good men. The immunity contracts given the supervisors by the graft prosecution worried Belshaw too."

PARDEE AND MOTT.

The Call continues to say: "From Oakland comes the word that former Governor George C. Pardee is all fussed up over the attacks made on Mott which undoubtedly resulted in making him a bad third in the executive committee's balloting Monday. The Pardee People insist that the talk about Mott being the favorite candidate of the 'Heney machine' was inspired by Belshaw's friends to the advantage of the Centre."

MAYOR MOTT ADDRESSES STATE REALTY FEDERATION

Talks to the Sacramento People on the Benefits Resulting From Annexation

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—Mayor Frank K. Mott of Oakland and president of the State Realty Federation, addressed the delegates to the realty convention Tuesday night, and gave graphical instructions as to the methods to be employed in the making of a bigger city.

The directions were general and might with equal force apply to any city having ambitious and honorable intentions, but the realty men rather inclined to regard them as fitting the case of Sacramento admirably, so the discussion was specialized and this city and its annexation problem gave fuel for a lot of talk. Home-town speakers, elaborating on the suggestions of Mayor Mott, emphasized the necessity for immediate action, for concerted action, by the realty men to win over the real estate outside the present city limits to the annexation idea. The statement of one out-of-towner that some of his most influential neighbors were "unutterably opposed to annexation" stirred them up more than anything else. By finding out the difficulties and acknowledging them to themselves, the banqueters really became inspired with a more hopeful spirit, and something tangible is sure to grow out of that three-hour session at the table.

TALKS ON ANNEXATION.

"It is important that you should carry your annexation election," said Mayor Mott, when he had arrived at the matter about which he was to speak. "You know there is a good deal of a bug-a-boo about the supposed disadvantages of joining a big city. The disadvantages are nothing compared to the advantages. What if taxes are a little higher? There are a dozen ways in which the larger city saves the outsider money, not to speak of the finer sense of security, the pride he feels in being one of a big population and the other comforts that make life more agreeable."

"In Oakland lately, we annexed 30,000 people in a territory twice as large as the old city. What has been the result? The gas rates have come down, electric light bills reduced, car fare cut down, water rates less, and this does not take into consideration the fact that soon there will be sewers and improved streets in sections where it would have been impossible to get them before."

HOW PROJECT CARRIED.

Then Mayor Mott related how all the objections couched up by the opponents of annexation were overcome. The first thing the promoters did was to invite the opponents to a crackerjack dinner. Having the objectors at the table where they could not get away afforded a fine opportunity to convince and clear away the objections. Out of this meeting grew an agreement to meet again at a luncheon and settle every difference. The outsiders came with a list of the things they wanted and the insiders went prepared to agree to everything reasonable. The insiders pledged themselves to see that every guarantee was carried out by the present and future city administrations. With that understanding only did the annexation election carry.

DISCUSS DESIGNS FOR NEW MUNICIPAL CERTIFICATES

Whether They Shall Be Steel Engraved or Lithographed Is Puzzling Question

Whether the new municipal bonds change will not list bonds that are not to be steel engraved or lithographed is the question that will be settled by the board of public works according to the ideas of the local bankers in that regard.

The appearance of the bond has something to do with giving it a value, according to the opinion of City Engineer Turner, who is for the steel engraved promise-to-pay of the city and further for their adornment with a park scene or something that is distinctive of our municipal charms.

City Attorney Stetson is not esthetic in his notions on such matters and his argument is for a bond that is not so expensive. "It does not matter how they are printed," he declared at the meeting of the board of public works yesterday afternoon, "and for my part I would have them printed as cheaply as possible. It means a difference of nearly $1500 in the cost whether they are lithographed or steel engraved." He continued, "and while I do not want to have them look cheap, still we have got to economize."

According to the city attorney's statements the New York stock exchange will not list bonds that are not steel engraved for the good reason that they are less liable to be forged. Mr. Stetson said that municipal bonds were not listed on the New York stock exchange so that it was not necessary to comply with the rules of that organization in the matter of printing the local bond issue. It was decided, however, that the local financiers would be courted for their opinion in the matter as to steel engraving or lithographing and upon the majority of their opinion will rest the decision of the board.

SEEKING DAMAGES FOR AN OLD BULLET WOUND

William J. Gilbert has brought suit in the Superior Court against Tony Rice and "John Doe" Wilson for $10,000 as damages for a bullet wound he claims to have received in Rice's saloon at Bakerfield. The complaint states that on February 11, 1909, Gilbert entered Rice's resort, when Rice "negligently permitted" Wilson to shoot him "without provocation."

WIDOW SUES FOR INSURANCE MONEY

Nellie Fitzpatrick Fights to Realize on Accident Policy.

Superior Judge Ogden has been engaged since about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the trial of the suit brought by Nellie Fitzpatrick against the North American Accident Insurance company, by which she seeks to recover $1000 on an accident policy held by her husband, the late Roger Fitzpatrick. The company refused to settle the widow's claim on the ground that there was not sufficient proof that Fitzpatrick came to his death as the result of accident, the theory being that the dead man was fatally beaten by burglars.

Fitzpatrick had been a partner of Michael Sabatino in the saloon business at 330 Tenth street and was found there injured one day in January, 1909. He died without being able to tell how he came by his hurts. The widow and her witnesses have testified that he fell down stairs. Fitzpatrick was 31 years of age at the time of his death.

Richmond Preparing For the Big Fight

RICHMOND, Feb. 10.—Manager T. A. Dowe and Superintendent D. H. Robertson of the East Shore and Suburban Electric railway are in consultation today with the management of the Oakland Traction company. Arrangements will be made for the running of through cars from Oakland to the fight arena in this city, on the 23d. Contractor Evans began work on the arena this morning. It will be eight sided, 250 feet in diameter and will seat 20,000 people. A force of thirty carpenters are at work on the job and it will be completed in ten days. The city has a large force of men constructing four sidewalks leading to the arena.

OPIUM USER FAILS TO ANSWER SUMMONS

Jesse Russell failed to appear in police court this morning when his trial for petty larceny was called and Judge Smith issued a bench warrant for his arrest. Detective Kyle was detailed to hunt up the delinquent whom he found on route to the court almost insane from the effects of opium. Russell comes of a good family who have abandoned him to his fate because of his being addicted to the opium habit and when in that condition he has figured in several larcenies. His present offence consists of, it is alleged, taking two watches and two pins from Robert Knox.

Registration Meetings Will Supplant Deputies

COUNTY CLERK HAS DEVISED NEW PLAN

Innovation is Intended to Accommodate Voters in Outlying Districts.

For the purpose of facilitating registration for the coming elections and particularly to accommodate the voters residing in the outlying districts of the county a series of registration meetings has been arranged by County Clerk Cook to take the place of the system of the special registration deputies that has heretofore prevailed. These meetings will be held according to a carefully prepared schedule under the personal supervision of the County Clerk and will be conducted by his regular deputies, thus precluding the necessity of voters neglecting their business to come to the Hall of Records from various distances to register their votes.

In order to get the best results every person whose name appears on the Great Register of 1933 will receive official personal notification from the County Clerk of the meeting to which the registration meeting will be held in his district. By this means and through the medium of newspaper publicity County Clerk Cook hopes to secure a record registration. Meetings will first be held in the outlying districts of the county to get the registration for the school and town elections which are scheduled to take place in April.

HONEST BUTTER WEIGHT TO BE DEMANDED BY LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The action taken by the Retail Grocers' Association in urging the passage of an ordinance making it a crime to sell short weight butters has received general endorsement throughout this city yesterday. The wholesalers, upon whose shoulders there was a tendency to lay the blame for the practice, declare that they will have pleasure in such a law. And it is declared that the Board of Supervisors by passing a measure of this kind can eliminate the practice in forty-eight hours.

The ordinance is being prepared under the supervision of Secretary Connolly of the Grocers' Association, patterned after the law now in force in the State of Oregon. In regard to the enforcement of the action Connolly said:

"I have received of the highest retail firms in this city today congratulating the association on the stand it has taken in this matter."

It is claimed that such a law would be of the greatest help in creating a standard that the Federal government has been working toward for the past few years.

FISH COMBINE SCORED BY SAN FRANCISCO JUDGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The alleged local fish trust, operations of which were exposed recently in a suit for $15,000 damages brought by G. G. Giff and other independent fish dealers, received a blow at the hands of Judge Hunt yesterday when a demurrer filed by the members of the so-called combine was thrown out of court.

The concerns against which unlawful discrimination and monopoly are charged by Giff, the Western Fish Company, the American Fish Company, the San Francisco Fish Company and the International Fish Company.

Besides overruling the demurrer Judge Hunt scored the alleged combination in the following words:

"Assuming, as I must do upon demurrer, that the allegations of the complaint are true, it states ample ground for equitable relief, disclosing as it does the existence of a monopoly on the part of the defendants to wreck the plaintiff's business and to maintain a monopoly of the business of buying and selling fish in the markets of San Francisco to effect such a purpose is inimical to the interests of the public and is, therefore, illegal."

$1,000,000 FOR A GOOD STOMACH

This Offer Should be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The new discovery to relieve famous millionaires of a host of ailments is a new stomach medicine. This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his digestive system to run from bad to worse until it became incurable. His misfortune should serve as a warning to others. Every one who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is caused by an abnormal state of gastric juices. There is one element missing—Pepsin. The absence of this destroys the function of the gastric fluids. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the pepsin in a form almost identical to that naturally created by the system when in normal health, so that it restores to the gastric glands their digestive power and thus makes the stomach strong and well.

We want everyone troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia to come to our store and obtain a box of Rekal Tablets. They contain Bismuth, Subnitrate and Pepsin prepared by a process which develops their greatest power to overcome digestive disturbance.

Rekal Tablets are very pleasant to take. They soothe the irritable, weak stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, relieve nausea and indigestion, promote nutrition and bring about a feeling of comfort.

If you give Rekal Dyspepsia Tablets a reasonable trial we will return your money if you are not satisfied with the result. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rekal Remedies in Oakland only at the County Store, The Owl Drug Co., Inc., 10th and Washington, 12th and Broadway, 16th and San Pablo.

COMET HARMLESS DECLARES PRIEST

Astronomer Says Gas in Tail of Flying Star Will Not Destroy Life.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 10.—Father Richard Ricard, astronomer and one of the leading professors of Santa Clara College, denies the statement of Professor Booth of the chemistry department of the University of California that the terrestrial life will be menaced by Halley's comet, for the reason that cyanogen discovered in the tail of the comet, when combined with the hydrogen of the earth's atmosphere, will produce a poisonous gas.

The following statement was given out by Father Ricard:

"In answer to your questions as to whether there is danger of hydrocyanic gas from Halley's comet it will say that the same comet has been our guest for over 3000 years, and it has not yet been shown that any poisoning occurred. Very true, there have been certain marvelous coincidences between the comet's appearances and wars and epidemics. Then has followed a very false reasoning to the effect that it is when we see two extraordinary events happening together, one of them near and the other far and more mysterious, we link them together as cause and effect."

"Even if the comet's tail contains cyanogen and it were to combine with the earth's atmosphere, the question remains to be decided what sort of combination it would be."

SALT LAKE R. R. LOSES CONTRACT

Transportation of Transcontinental Mails Transferred to S. P. and Santa Fe.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—January floods which put the Nevada division of the Salt Lake Railroad out of commission have cost that system a four-year contract with the government for the transportation of transcontinental mails. The value of the contract is $130,000 annually.

Weighing of mails on the railroads of the fourth contract section of the United States will be begun on February 17th. As the Salt Lake is not operating through trains between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City there will be no weighing on that line and the full mail contract plums between them.

THREE WOMEN AID IN KIDNAPING OF CHILD

Police Fail to Find Kidnapers, and Much Mystery Surrounds Case.

Three women, one of them professing to be the mother of the infant, another her mother and the third the mother of the father of the child, late yesterday afternoon kidnaped a ten-week-old infant which had been left in the keeping of Mrs. J. W. Rees of 2625 Bona avenue a month ago today by the father of the child, a man named before Mrs. Rees could summon assistance or raise a hue and cry which would have resulted in their being overhauled. Much mystery surrounds the kidnapping, and it is supposed to be the offspring of a wealthy married man of Colusa, Cal., and a young girl who worked as a servant in the home of the mother of the alleged father of the babe and the wronged girl's mother, by lending their presence to the kidnapping, gave the case more mystery.

BOTH BRING CHILD

According to Mrs. Rees, a man and woman, the man declaring himself to be J. Morris Jones of Colusa, and a young woman who said her name was Mary, both of whom she had never seen before, came to her home a month ago today. They signed a contract whereby the parent to pay for the child. Nothing was said at that time about the child being the offspring of an illegitimate union.

Tuesday afternoon three women, one of them the same young woman who had brought the babe and the other the mother of the babe's father and the other the mother of the young mother, put the child in the hands of the police. Mrs. Rees said that the police officer told her that it was all right to give them the child, she would relinquish all claim to it.

WON'T GIVE UP BABE

Yesterday the three women appeared in court and the judge asked them to come and get the babe. Mrs. Rees still refused to give up the child. She said that she had been told by the police officer that if she gave up the child she would be paid for it. She said that she had been told by the police officer that if she gave up the child she would be paid for it.

WYOMING COAL LAND FRAUDS

Sixty-four Defendants Summoned in the Gebro Land Cases of Owl Creek Co.

LANDER, Wyo., Feb. 10.—Sixty-four defendants in alleged coal land frauds against the government appeared today before the United States Land Office in this city in cases which have been brought by the government for the cancellation of their titles to coal lands which are said to be the most valuable in the state.

The cases involve 5500 acres of land lying in the mineral district north of Lander, and have been appraised by government experts at a value of nearly $1,000,000.

GOVERNMENT CHARGES FRAUD.

The government alleges that these lands were sold to "dummy" entrpreneurs for the benefit of the Owl Creek Coal Company and the Northwestern Coal Company, which are controlled largely by New York interests. The two companies are reported to be associated with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. The cases are commonly known as the "Gebro coal land fraud cases."

Samuel W. Gebro, George W. Dally, Rufus D. Gebro and others were alleged to be instrumental in securing the titles to the lands involved. The cases have been under investigation by the Federal land agents for three years, and various actions have been brought in court.

OPERATION ENJOINED.

Hungarian Pianist Star Of the Orpheum New Bill

JULIUS STEGER, who comes next week to the Oakland Orpheum.

Vilmos Westony, the Hungarian pianist is the bright particular star at the Oakland Orpheum this week. Millions of people play the piano, but none of them play it just like Westony does. He has a way that is all his own. It is a foreign way and also the way of an artist. It serves as a sauce to the exceedingly fine technical performance that Westony gives on the piano, and both senses the crowd and gives the sense of seeing something that is just a little bit different from the ordinary run of entertainers.

One of the delightful bits on the bill this week is contributed by Claude and Fannie Usher. They play their brilliant piano classic "Topsy's Decision" in splendid style and demonstrate that it is a piece of the first water amongst dramatic stuff.

The Four Readings are acrobats who provide a new sensation with their stunts. They work in a gymnastic set and as athletes are perhaps superior to anything ever seen at the Orpheum. Cook and Stevens are two merry fun makers, one of whom poses as a Chinaman and the other appears as a negro. The Eight Geisha Girls continue to charm with their dainty singing, dancing and playing on Japanese musical instruments. Jean Clermont's burlesque circus is a delightful bit that amuses the children and the adults as well. Brown, Harris and Brown create a gale of merriment with their singing, dancing and comedy business. The Doherty Sisters, known as the "finger" girls, contribute a sparkling fifteen minutes of entertainment.

The Orpheum management announces an exceedingly important card next Sunday in the offering of Julius Steger who is to present his new musical playlet "The Way to the West."

SANTA MARIA OIL DISPUTE SETTLED

William G. Henshaw Sells Out All Interest in Palmer and Old Mission Oil Cos.

The big financial fight that has been waged by prominent Oregon and California men, constituting respectively the majority and minority stockholders and directors in the Palmer and Old Mission oil companies, which have valuable plants in the Santa Maria district of Santa Barbara county, was amicably adjusted yesterday and the final papers will be signed by all the interested parties tomorrow.

William G. Henshaw, the majority owner of the Palmer and Old Mission oil companies, has agreed to sell all of his stock holdings for a price of $1,000,000. That was the price offered by Frank L. Brown, one of the leaders of the majority, yesterday after much questioning and with much reluctance, he stating that he did not care to speak of the settlement until the papers were all signed on Friday. Whether this large sum is to be all cash, or part cash and the rest in securities, is not divulged. Henshaw has got out, and the settlement of the two companies has been completed and the long and bitter struggle is over.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FREE MONTHLY OIL PAPERS ARE PLENTIFUL.

It is surprising what a number of monthly oil papers are distributed by the different promoters. To hear some of the extravagant claims made for these papers, you would think the regular weekly papers were being crowded out of business, and that the monthly papers were the only ones worth getting. With all that, they serve their purpose. This is a day of specialties, and if it were not for the publicity given the oil industry by these self-same papers, our daily newspapers would not contain all the information they do. Desires for knowledge creates the demand for news.

FINED KISSING FOR KILLING

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—City Justice Anderson yesterday fined William Nagle $50 for leading a little girl into Sutter's Forge and kissing her.

Though Nagle protested that his intention was to lead the girl to the evidence showed that he did not mistreat the girl more than to kiss her. City Justice Anderson decided to make an example of the man, and so imposed the heavy penalty.

WINGFIELD TAKES OVER PLYMIRE MARBLE QUARRY

RENO, Feb. 10.—Incorporation papers have been filed with the secretary of state at Carson for the Nevada Mining Company, with George Wingfield as president. The new company takes control of the business of the Nevada Marble and Mining Company, which was composed of F. A. Plymire of Luning, Nevada, and his brother, Dr. D. B. Plymire, resident physician of the Palace Hotel of San Francisco, and their associates.

The older company has for several years controlled immense deposits of marble near Luning and has done $250,000 worth of development work, which, in the opinion of Wingfield's special experts and others who have been brought from Eastern marble centers, will form a strong competition against imported Italian and other foreign marble. There are fifteen claims in the company's holdings at Luning or about 100 acres of ground.

STEALING CLERKS SOUNDLY DRUBBED

Pittsburg Employer Punishes Delinquents Without Resort to Law.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 10.—A. R. Peacock, who years ago was taken from a New York store by Andrew Carnegie and put in the way of accumulating a fortune of $15,000,000, has again started Peabody.

Findings that some of his employees, through carelessness or worse, had squandered about $250,000 of his money, he locked himself in a room with each of the delinquents in turn and beat them to the count of ten with his fists. Then he chased them from his office, declining to prosecute.

Suspicious that things were going wrong, employed detectives to watch certain of his employees in their shop. They informed him that two of his most trusted men had bought wine by the case for choral girls in a downtown hotel until far into the morning. Peacock refused to believe it, because one of the men mentioned was high in his work. But the next report was worse. Not only were his two employees meeting all corners, but they had paraded openly in public places with a woman who was showing a $400 coat given her by the Peacock company.

MILLER'S RIGHTS TO BLEACH FLOUR

Test Case is Now on Trial Before the U. S. District Court New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—Involved in the facts of color of flour the case of the United States against the Aetna Mills and Elevator company of Wellington, Kansas, was resumed in the United States District Court here today. The proceedings marked the actual opening of the trial, which will determine for the first time the right of millers to employ processes for the bleaching of flour.

Officials of the pure food department claim that flour has been whitened in many instances by an unwholesome chemical treatment. If the government should win the case, it is said, white flour will be a thing of the past and will give way to a product of yellow or golden color.

TRACORPORATION GRANTS DEMANDS

PORTLAND, Feb. 10.—As a result of a campaign of protest against high steps on Portland street cars, undertaken by women, the Portland Railway, Light and Power Company has arranged for a public demonstration of various types of steps, to which women are especially invited. February 22nd has been set as the time for the demonstration. At that time Superintendent Franklin will have the cars equipped with the various kinds of steps in vogue, and the women will be asked to try all of them to see whether some decision can be reached as to the best type.

If the women can agree upon a type of step whose operation is practicable, the street car company promises to adopt it for general use. The crusade has the backing of all the women's clubs, and had been carried to the City Council before the company held out hope of possible relief.

Preaching Versus Practice.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce would do well to practice what it preaches. With all the good work it is doing it could achieve still greater results by giving Oakland business to Oakland men instead of giving to men in other cities who neither dwell, pay taxes nor do business in this city.

The community of interest spirit—the home-trading principle—is one of the chief factors in building up a city and developing civic pride; and for that reason is a spirit that the Chamber of Commerce should inculcate and exemplify. It is neither exhortation to local pride nor encouragement to local loyalty to find the Chamber of Commerce passing by Oakland business men to give patronage to San Franciscans. First, it is a discrimination against home enterprise, and second, an implied admission that we must go abroad to get something that is really good.

What we mean is just this: The chamber has decided to spend some $2500 in advertising Oakland in Eastern publications, which is all right. But the gentlemen in charge of the matter declined to let Oakland advertising agents (not the newspapers) place the advertising. They handed the business over to a San Francisco advertising agent, who will now put out Oakland's official advertising from a San Francisco office under a San Francisco letterhead.

Oakland advertising agents may starve or go hang so far as the business of the Chamber of Commerce is concerned. But how can they be expected to pay rent and grocery bills in this city if the business which should naturally be theirs is sent across the bay?

"Let everybody strive to build up Oakland," is the text of the chamber's teaching, but the teaching seems sadly misapplied in this instance. It is not exactly heartening to be told on the other hand that the Chamber of Commerce prefers to give its patronage to San Francisco business houses.

"Trade at home" is a good motto, but it is not a one-sided proposition—those who preach it should practice it.

Peary's Impudent Demand.

The Senate has reported favorably the bill providing that Robert E. Peary be retired from the navy with the rank and pay of a rear admiral. Mr. Peary is not a regular naval officer, but is civil engineer in the service of the navy with the rank and pay of commander. He has never performed any naval service warranting his elevation to the rank of rear admiral and is not incapacitated by wounds, disease, age or other disability from rendering active service. Why, then, should he be either retired or promoted?

For more than sixteen years Peary has been carried on the navy payroll as a commander, but during all that period he has not given the government a day of service or had more than a nominal connection with the navy. During the entire period he has been conducting privately financed polar explorations which he and his associates have made enormously profitable in a literary way. Peary has amassed an independent fortune while drawing pay from the government for services never rendered.

The government has done enough for him. It has paid him a good salary for nearly twenty years while he sought distinction and fortune in his own way. He has been given exceptional opportunities denied other officers of the navy to distinguish himself and put money in his purse. At the present time he is preparing to go on an expedition in search of the South Pole—an expedition planned for his personal glory and financial benefit. Under the circumstances the scheme to retire him with the rank and pay of rear admiral is an impudent proposition. The request should be ignored. Instead Peary should be ordered back to duty or retired with his present rank.

High Prices and Trade Boycotts.

Congress is surprised to find that the commission men of Washington are organized in a combine and boycott all retailers who presume to buy produce direct from the farmers. Congress is being constantly surprised at learning things that are as familiar as old shoes to the man in the street.

In every large city in the country there is a combine of the commission men similar to the one revealed in the National capital. These combines stand between the producers and the retailers, hiding behind the latter to shield themselves from the wrath of the consumers. Under pretense of making prices better for the producers they create artificial scarcity by methods which violate every canon of fair dealing as well as the law of supply and demand. In the end they milk the producers as well as the consumers. They even destroy great quantities of wholesome food products to prevent a fall in prices. This criminal waste entails a dead loss on the producers and inflicts an unnecessary and unjust hardship on the general public.

Under cover of these combines in restraint of honest trade a good deal of systematic robbery is practiced—false returns to the producers and short weight and short measure to the consumers. The retailers must take what they get on terms fixed by the commission men, who use the boycott and the blacklist ruthlessly to maintain control of the market.

The so-called fish trust is one of the most conspicuous examples of piratical exaction that the country affords. This combine fixes the prices paid to the fishermen and to the retailers. The fisherman or retailer who refuses to submit is boycotted with a persistence and ingenuity worthy of the Russian secret police. The retailer bold enough to buy direct from a fisherman is undersold in his territory and denied the right to purchase from the trust. The fisherman who tries to sell direct to retailers and consumers is blacklisted and hounded in a thousand ways. All sorts of things happen to his boats and his nets, and he is frequently the victim of thuggish violence.

Congress may not be able to provide an adequate remedy for these abuses and exactions, but bringing the facts before the public will do an immense amount of good. The investigation Congress has begun will provide the groundwork for local as well as Federal legislation to correct the iniquities now being practiced by unscrupulous middlemen organized to make trade an instrument of plunder and extortion.

The San Francisco papers dismissed the letting of the contract for the Bankers' Hotel with scant mention. Perhaps it interested them too little or too much. However, Oakland will manage to survive and continue to grow despite the narrow and covert spirit of hostility which crops out occasionally in the press across the bay.

Harper's Weekly says there is a strong sentiment in favor of calling Dr. Woodrow Wilson to the Presidency. But there is a still stronger sentiment in favor of continuing him in the presidency of Princeton University. It is the general belief that Dr. Wilson can render the public a greater service as president of Princeton University than as President of the United States.

Earth's Envelope Is in 3 Layers

The new science of the air is the result of many hundred kite and sounding balloon flights made by day and by night in fair weather and foul, over land and sea, at all seasons of the year, and from the equator to the arctic circle. Most people know that the warm air surrounding the earth is only a thin belt, but we do not most of us know that at 10 miles above the earth it would not only be bitterly cold, but the sun would appear quite different.

The air is stratified in three more or less distinct layers. In the lowest we live. It extends about two miles and is a region of turmoil, whimsical winds, cyclones and anti-cyclones. At two miles the freezing point is reached, and there is a second stratum extending upward for about another six miles. Here the air grows steadily colder and drier, the lowest temperature recorded being 167 degrees below freezing point. Here the air moves in great planetary swirls produced by the spinning of the earth on its axis so that the wind always blows in the same easterly direction.

The greater the height the more furious is the blast of this relentless gale. After this layer comes the third, or isothermal stratum, discovered almost simultaneously by M. de Bort and Dr. Assmann. This is called the permanent inversion stratum, because the temperature increases with the height reached. But the temperatures so far recorded in the second stratum are not high, being far below zero F., generally somewhere from 122 degrees to 140 degrees below it.

Here the air no longer swirls in a planetary circle. The wind may blow in a direction contrary to that in the second layer. And the air invariably is excessively dry. Where this third stratum ends no one knows. But it must be at more than 18 miles above the earth. For sounding balloons have reached this height and have not found the end of the permanent inversion layer of air. When the influence of the upper regions of air upon the lower is fully understood it may be possible to foretell the weather not merely for a day but for a week.

Woman, Status and Contract

The greatest jurist of the last century held that the most important step in modern progress was taken when man passed from a condition of status to that of contract, when he began to make his own bargains, instead of having them made for him, as a member of a clan or family of clans.

The contention of the women teachers, as set forth in the letter printed in another column, virtually amounts to this, that, in so far as there is discrimination against them, on the ground of sex, their relation with the community is not contractual, while that of the men is.

If women are allowed to compete freely with men in any trade, profession or calling, and if there is discrimination against them in this matter of remuneration, it is plain—that the disability of which they complain is contrary to the general tendency in the direction of equality which began with the first married woman's property act. For to set up a married woman as a person with property rights apart from her husband was a revolutionary proceeding destructive of all discipline and submission.—New York Sun.

Topics Timely and Interesting

A recent visitor to the home of Major Alfred Dreyfus writes that the onetime prisoner of Devil's Island now spends his leisure hours in the study of the social problems. "In a lecture which he delivered at one of the public libraries in Paris," says the writer, "Dreyfus spoke of the 'revolutionary and reform elements in the labor class' and brought many arguments in favor of arbitration, which received the loud approval of his audience, consisting for the most part of members of the Equal Rights Society."

Minnesota has found a way to get rid of surplus curs, and the Supreme Court of the State has upheld the method. A couple of dogs chose the center of a streetcar track in St. Paul as a battleground and failed to heed the warning clasp of an approaching trolley car. One dog was killed and the owner brought suit for a handsome figure against the railway company. The Supreme Court holds that dogs have no rights in highways that anybody—even a motorman—is bound to respect. If a similar decision can be obtained in New York, what a chance for chauffeurs and truckmen to relieve many a city village of sleep disturbers.

"Cats on the paw, $200 a pound" is a line that appeared recently in a Chicago paper. Coming from the meat center, it might look at first glance like a quotation from the packing house district. Really, however, it was used to indicate the value of a ten-pound tabby on exhibition at the Bessford Cat Show. Mrs. Hugh King's blue Persian being held at $2000. Another somewhat smaller pet, a silver Persian pussy, is appraised by the owner at $1000.

A teacher of vocal music tells this story about one of his girl pupils: "She asked me many times what name she had better assume when she went on the stage, and I invariably told her to wait until the time came. Last week she came to her lesson radiant, because the family had decided her stage name should be 'Signorina Harlemina,' being part of her own name and an affix to Harlem, her home. I saw that the stage bug had become incurably developed, and knowing that she could never get higher than a second rate choir, I felt justified in asking her to seek another and better teacher, and now when the wonderful woman becomes famous I will get no credit for having coached her."

For just one day last week New York had a real novelty in barber shops—a "have-yourself tonsorial parlor." It was not called that, nor did the proprietor have any intention of running such a place, but he was forced to do it for a day. It happened this way: For one cause or another all his barbers failed to report for duty, and the regular customers were far too many for the "boss" to attend to. When the shop was well filled with "nexts," one of them, seeing the situation, offered to shave himself. Others followed suit, and in a minute or two there was a long line of amateurs scraping away before the mirrors. "And they paid me 15 cents apiece, too," said the proprietor gleefully.

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Superintendent of Schools in Philadelphia, says that he can guarantee an absolutely "safe and sane" Fourth of July celebration in the Quaker City. The promise certainly seems cheap at the price. Dr. Brumbaugh is president of the Philadelphia Playgrounds Association, and it is in that capacity that he is acting in offering to insure against shattered nerves on Independence Day. His idea is to provide some substitute for the ordinary murderous celebration of the day. He would give the children an ample entertainment. He advocates utilizing every available vacant lot, park, and dump in the town for games, baseball, etc., on that day, and free lemonade (furnished from the $5000 fund), ice cream and the rest of the childish menu.

Singular Things in the News

For hundreds of years the British exchequer kept accounts by means of notched sticks of elm wood called tallies, a plan that strongly resembled Robinson Crusoe's mode of keeping his calendar on the desert island. In the reign of George III, an inquiry was made by some revolutionary spirit as to whether pen, ink and paper could not be substituted, but the whole civil service rose against this innovation. It took many years to get the sticks abolished. And when they were privately and confidentially burned in a stove at the house of lords in 1834, the paneling of the room caught fire and both houses were reduced to ashes.

Switzerland may yet have a navy. The first steamer coming by sea from a foreign country to Switzerland has arrived at Basle. Switzerland is anxious to have a seaport. The scheme for the canalization of the country, linking the great lakes with the Rhine and the Rhone, so that vessels of considerable draft could pass from the North sea to the Mediterranean by way of Basle, the Lake of Neuchâtel and Geneva, is receiving serious attention. The government is willing to expend a large sum of money upon the necessary work and the matter has gone far.

It was proved long ago that ants have the power of seeing the human beings—invisible days of the ultra-violet portion of the spectrum. They fear the light for their larvae, and when allowed choice between different degrees of light always carry them to the darkest places accessible. When given the choice between a compartment lighted with yellow light and one dark to human eyes, but under the actinic ray, the ants hesitatingly choose the yellow light, showing that to their eyes it is darker than the other, to man invisible.

Told About People

Gladstone's power of memory was always one of his greatest assets. In his last years he often lamented that it was not what it had been; but even so, it came triumphantly out of some remarkable tests. In his eighty-third year he set himself to recall Mazzini's ode on the death of Napoleon, which, as a young man, he had translated into English. He had entirely forgotten his own version, but by dint of hard "digging" or "fishing up," as he called it, he wrote down 104 of the 108 Italian lines. Two years later he essayed to write from memory a complete list of all the men who had been his cabinet colleagues, and enumerated sixty-eight of the seventy.

Ernesta Nathan, mayor of Rome, who declined on several occasions to accept a decoration from King Victor Emmanuel, was finally forced to take the grand cross of the Crown of Italy. Nathan was making a call at the Quirinal, and when about to depart was asked to take from the queen a little parcel to his wife. The box contained the decoration, which the modest mayor was compelled to accept, and by virtue of which he became a member of the small fraternity of which his sovereign is the head.

Whitefield, one of the founders of methodism, who died in 1770 was a strenuous preacher. His usual program was forty hours' solid speaking each week, and this to congregations measured in thousands, but he often spoke for sixty hours. This was not all. For "after his labors, instead of taking rest, he was engaged in offering up prayers and intercessions or in singing hymns, as his manner was, in every house to which he was invited."

More About Life After Death

Popular thought begins by assuming that matter is the most certain of all things. Spirit may be doubted, but material things are undeniably there. This is the conviction with which we all begin, and it very easily leads us toward mechanical and materialistic thinking. The view, however, is inverted. The only sure facts in life are ourselves and the world of common experience, the human world in short. This is where we really begin and where life itself goes on; and all thinking whatever that we may do must be related to these facts, and whatever we believe must in some way be deduced from these facts. Matter, then, as a metaphysical existence, is no first fact, but only an abstraction from experience. Life and experience are the first facts. Now with the starting point thus fixed, we can find ourselves living, feeling, acting and producing a very great many effects in the world of experience. We are in the world depending upon it in some ways and able to act upon it and modify it in some ways. The physical world, then, is far from independent of our thought and action. We, the living persons, modify the world of things, use it for our purposes, build cities, traverse seas, subdue nature to our service, develop governments, social institutions, etc.; and in all of this we find ourselves given as active and controlling causes. Hence, that some materialists have held that this is only an illusion may be dismissed at once.—Review of Reviews.

Cupid and the Living Cost of Living is a Problem of Weight

The relation between the cost of living and the activity in the issuance of marriage licenses is recognized as intimate, even though the economists may not be able to express the subtle fact in a mathematical formula. But there can be no doubt that Cupid keeps an eye on the market prices of provisions, even though he may have little use for the tailor. There can be no doubt that this sprightly promoter of felicity has abandoned the old fallacy, enticing but illusory, that two persons can live just as cheaply as can one. Perhaps that untruth in domestic mathematics took form at a time when girls were different in some material respects from the maidens of today. It was once the fact that they should be delicate, without appetite, taking food after the manner of birds, with anemic results. They were more fond of cakes and sweetmeats than of prosaic bread, potatoes and roast beef. In those days there might be more economy in the feminine menu, even allowing that cake costs more than bread. But the girl of today is brought up to be bursar and robust. There has been a reaction, both sensible and widespread. She takes proper pride in her appetite and in her muscles, which she has learned are not at all inconsistent with gentle sentiment. She emulates her brother in fondness for the open air and for suitable athletics. There is no longer any reason for her sentimental semistarvation. If she likes a ballad to her eyebrow, she is ready also for a lobster after the opera. She may approve of kisses from the one right man, but she must also be able to provide a menu more extended than bread and cheese. Hence the normal and active feminine interest in the revolt against high prices in the market place.—Washington Post.

GOVERNOR GILLETT

We believe the people of California will learn with keen regret the determination of Governor Gillett to retire from the contest for Governor, and to assume the practice of his profession. The Governor has given us one of the best and cleanest administrations in the history of the State, and had he consented to again develop the candidate, we believe he would have received a great popular endorsement. Mr. Gillett is, we believe, by far the "biggest" man we have in California today. Seemingly he has "grown" in strength right before our eyes. He has risen to each emergency as it has arisen, showing a comprehension of public interests at once broad and thorough, and at the same time a knowledge and attention to detail seldom shown by a public man.

Mr. Gillett entered upon his present office under conditions, that many of our best citizens regarded with suspicion, and many others with fear of the result. Even those of his staunch friends in this First Congressional district were inclined to fear that Mr. Gillett had compromised himself unconsciously with a bad element of the party. But the result has shown that all these suspicions and fears were unfounded. Secure in the strength of his own integrity, stronger and wiser than those who, perhaps, hoped to profit by the circumstances of his nomination, the Governor has proved himself a statesman in the best sense of the word. It is doubtful if the people of California will be content to let Mr. Gillett remain in obscurity. He is the kind of man the people have need of, and the kind of man the politicians have, or have not. Today he stands head and shoulders above the public men of this coast, and it is not well that the State should lose such valuable genius and ability. When the proper time comes, we believe he will be called upon in no uncertain terms to again devote his talent to the uplifting of California's interests.—Calaveras Press.

FROG FARMING As an Industry

It is in France that the frog was first generally used for food, and it is in that country that the industry of frog farming has been most largely developed. The green frog exists abundantly throughout France where there are marshes, ponds or sedgy margins of rivers or bays that contain fresh or slightly brackish water.

The best outfit for frog raising is one or more shallow ponds or reservoirs, filled with grasses and other water plants. It should be so situated that the water can be partially drawn off so as to facilitate the labor of catching. If it is often the case, the pond abounds in frogs, they are simply protected and left for a year or two to propagate. If food does not develop, the owner throws in a few earthworms, as the frog is a carnivorous animal, and prefers the food, whether worms, larvae or insects, fresh and in normal, living condition. If no frogs exist in the water they are planted either living, or in the form of eggs, which hatch when the water becomes warm in April.—Popular Mechanics.

Sentence Sermons

Some men believe you cannot enjoy life's berries unless you eat its briers. One trouble with the grave stone ticket to glory is that it is printed too late.

It is always easier to straighten out the truth than it is to line up with it. Some men think they are lifting up the church by hiding their faults under it.

When you bury your sorrows don't water them; forget where you planted them. You do not learn the way to heaven by inquiry as to the waywardness of your friends.

The fact that you are fighting for the truth does not secure you from practicing it once in a while. When a man's heart is drying up in the desert of conceit he tries to comfort himself by looking at the size of his head.

Religion must be a roadblock to many because they are not sure that they are headed for heaven unless they are facing the other way.

MYSTERY SHROUDS DEPARTURE OF RICH COUPLE

Wealthy Woman of Goldfield
Disappears Suddenly from Portland.

BOTH APPEARED TO BE
POSSESSED OF WEALTH

Mrs. Bradshaw and Her Husband Mystify Portland Police.

PORTLAND, Feb. 10.—Considerable mystery shrouds both Mrs. Bradshaw, the wealthy Nevada woman, for whom the Goldfield authorities are searching, and her husband, because of their strange disappearance from here late in December last. Mrs. Bradshaw, accompanied by her husband, came to Portland from Goldfield, Nev., about October 1 last and two months later bought a rooming house in Northeast Portland, paying $5000 cash for it. Mrs. Bradshaw carried on this business until December 23, on which day she left the place, telling one of the servants that she was "going down town." Since then the woman has not been seen in Portland or three days later Bradshaw also disappeared mysteriously. The former landlady of the house took possession and is operating the lodging house. Friends of Mrs. Bradshaw became uneasy at her disappearance, which the servants stated followed a quarrel with her husband and reported the matter to the police about January 16 last. Search was begun for both Mrs. Bradshaw and her husband, but no trace of the couple has been found.

The woman left less than $100 in unpaid bills and trades people who dealt with her speak of her in high terms. The fact that she was anything more than what she appeared, a hard working woman, was not known here until the receipt of the Associated Press dispatch from Goldfield.

MURDER LEAGUE LOCATED IN KOREA

Assailant of Premier Yi Gives Names of Members of Association.

SEOUL (Korea), Saturday, January 15.—The nucleus of a murder league has been discovered here as a result of the investigation following the attempted assassination of Premier Yi. The would-be assassin was not fully successful but the victim, while he may live for some time, must be an invalid for life.

The Korean who made the attempt on the life of the Premier has confessed and given the names of his associates. From this, it would appear that there was a close connection between the assassination of Prince Yi and the attempt on the Premier. The prisoner in Seoul says there was an organized plot to do away with all the Korean cabinet and the leading Japanese officials.

It is expected that a number of other arrests will be made. Already the authorities have some fifteen men in jail, charged with being in the conspiracy and it is said that the end is not yet but the facts now known to the secret agents will startle even the western countries and governments. Certainly the league of assassins charged with being in the conspiracy in Vladivostok. A branch is said to be in San Francisco. A number of threatening letters have been received by leading men and by foreigners who are known to be advocates of the Japanese control of Korea.

WIRES CROSSED; WHOLE DISTRICT IS LIGHTED

A high potential feed wire of the California gas and electric corporation system broke near the intersection of Fruitvale avenue and the Southern Pacific right of way at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Far away as Decoto the electricity put the signals out of commission, and appeals for help were sent to the Oakland mole. The danger was over in a short time, however, as the electric company shut off its current through the broken line, and repaired the damage.

THOUSANDS ORDER CARDS IN ADVANCE

Chamber of Commerce Preparing for Postal Boost Day in Oakland.

In a few days the cards for the Chamber of Commerce Postcard Day will be off the presses and ready for distribution. All orders will be filed in the sequence in which they are received and the Chamber of Commerce officials have arranged to have the postals on sale on February 12.

Orders aggregating many thousands of cards have already been filed most of these being from fraternal and labor organizations and the clubs, but many of the store and offices have notified the officials of their intention to distribute large batches. All those who wish to become official card distributors are asked to notify the Chamber of Commerce so that their badges and batches of postals may be prepared and they may make an early start on the morning of the day.

These cards, like the "tags" which have formerly been employed on similar "boost" events on both sides of the bay are to be badges of honor, but there the resemblance ends, for while the tags are used for the purpose of raising money, the postals just begin their career of usefulness when they have been bought.

It is the work which they accomplish after they go into the mail boxes, according to the chamber, that the postals are to prove their real value to the city, for any one may be the means of bringing to Oakland which will give employment to hundreds of people and have added prosperity to the city and county. The chamber believes that each one of the little postals has the potentialities for great accomplishments.

The low price at which the postals have been set makes it possible for every citizen of Oakland to buy the set of two, and the officials of the Chamber of Commerce estimate that this average will be the lowest it is possible for the city to show when the results are recorded. Many of the large merchants and business men have expressed their intention of making the figures run into the million mark, if the general public shows only the proper spirit. The officials, however, believe that the million cards will be bought and sent out and that the rank and file of Oakland citizens will enter into the plan and purchase the entire edition.

The two cards will cost five cents, and a nickel spent by every one of the three hundred thousand citizens—in Oakland is the way the Chamber of Commerce officials calculate. The remaining 400,000 the officials believe will be taken by the large firms, clubs and fraternal and labor organizations.

EVANGELISM DISCUSSED AT A SECTION MEETING

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—World-wide evangelism and the layman-evangelist were discussed at the meeting yesterday of the executive committee of the American Section of the World Alliance Reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian system.

In a paper by General R. E. Prime of Yonkers, N. Y., the "layman's movement" was commended and church history cited to show that men have been accepted as gospel preachers without ordination, while the ability and religious qualifications of some laymen were said to be superior sometimes to those of ordained ministers who are forced to resort to "vaudeville" methods in their pulpits. "In this age of essays with texts only as mottoes for discourses on politics, elections, sciences or historical characters."

MILLION TO BE SPENT ON HUMOLDT HARBOR

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—Because Representative Englebright, a mining engineer by profession, is a first-class draftsman, the fight for the improvement of the harbor at Eureka at a cost of more than a million dollars has been won. The House committee today adopted the project and fixed $50,000 as the first annual installment of the appropriation.

The committee was reluctant because of the edict to pare down the rivers and harbors bill, but Englebright overwhelmed it with his maps and illustrations showing the wickedness of the tides and storms and shifting sands of Humboldt bar.

THIS MAN MAKES ALL OSTRICHES LOOK LIKE PIKERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Take one ten-pound boiled ham, the skin, fat and all but the bone included, two gallons of water, one keg of kale, weighing forty pounds when dry, and two gallons of beer; pour slowly into the maw of a healthy human being in two hours and forty-five minutes; let the mixture settle until assured of success and the result will be a gastronomic treat or "gourmet's" (old-fashioned slang for gourmet).

That this is a guaranteed recipe was demonstrated here last night when "Boots" Reppetti, a German trained in mastication and digestion at the Washington navy yard, made of himself a receptacle for stirring the above mentioned ingredients without even a grunt.

Reppetti devoured the record-breaking meal in the presence of nearly a hundred reputable witnesses who vouched for the accuracy of the quantity of food and liquids he consumed in less than three hours. He devoured the gigantic feast to prove his claim to the title of champion long distance eater of the East. He still lives.

BOGUS CONFESSION WILL PROVE DEAR

Marine Who Claimed to be a
Murderer Faces Long
Sentence.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—James Hall, the marine who made a bogus confession to the effect that he was the murderer of the unfortunate Anna Schumacher in the cemetery in Rochester, is about to pay dearly for his joke. He was turned over to the civil authorities by the naval commandant at Portsmouth, N. H., and taken to Rochester for trial by the civil authorities and soon after his arrival, it was found that he had been working on a farm at the time of the murder.

Now the Rochester authorities can not hold him. But the navy department has rescinded the order for the immediate discharge of the man from the navy and he will be taken back to the prison ship at Portsmouth to serve out the unexpired portion of his sentence for enlistment, under false pretenses. Moreover, it is probable that Hall will be tried on a fresh charge of practicing fraud against the navy.

Mr. E. A. Kelley, Belvidere, Ill., writes me: "I am an ex-engineer with 23 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were affected so that I had to give up my engine. First I was troubled with severe itching pain over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder, and specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried, so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify they have made me a sound and well man." KEROSENE IS USED INSTEAD OF DIRK

Vegetable Venders Complain
to Police Their Wares Are Covered With Oil.

Pure kerosene figures as the weapon of vengeance that is being waged upon several Italian produce dealers having stands at the free market at Harrison and Eleventh streets. The product of the Rockefeller corporation is more devastating in its effects than all the daggers and dirks that ever played part in the vendettes of the past. The coal oil is poured over the vegetables and stocks of the several dealers who have come under the ban of their secret and vengeful foes.

One of the victims of this stealthy but devastating method of wreaking dire vengeance is E. Visconti, who, on going to his place of business yesterday morning, thought at first an oil well had spouted forth from within his store, so strongly did the odor of the kerosene assail him. He investigated and found that the illuminating fluid had been sprayed in upon his stock by a secret enemy, who stood without the wire-screened front and performed his destroying work.

Several others have complained to the police that the kerosene fiend had destroyed their stock, and Policeman Sherry had been detailed to ferret out the miscreants. Captain of Police Wilson scouts the idea of the work being that of the Black Hand, but lays it at the door of some rivals in trade.

Mr. Davenport is said to be ill in California. He was adjudged in contempt of court last week.

ELECTRIC LINE TO SPAN THE SACRAMENTO RIVER

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—For the purpose of going over the plans for the construction of a new bridge to span the Sacramento river, a meeting has been called by the United States engineers in charge of the stream for February 10. The bridge is to be used by an electric company. They wish it located at either M or B street, and as it is necessary to get government permission the engineers at their meeting will call for opinions for and against the proposed sites.

No piece of property within the boundaries of the city of Oakland has ever been offered to the public at such moderate prices and on such reasonable terms as IVEYWOOD.

Considering its choice location, considering its transportation facilities, and considering the improvements offered, IVEYWOOD is today the biggest value in California. Where else can you purchase a home site on the modest sum of 12c a day?

You can purchase a homesite in IVEYWOOD for 12c a day---can you think of a single instance when any other company has made as liberal an offer as the one we extend to you.

There is a reason why we are liberal: We want this district to build up; we want homes started as soon as possible. We own many acres of property adjacent to IVEYWOOD and for that reason it is to our interest to have IVEYWOOD grow. The sooner IVEYWOOD is settled the sooner our other property increases in value—that is why we are so liberal with the payments; that is why we will do more than our share to help you start a home now in this choice section.

IVEYWOOD

We are not asking you to come out on the hills and buy a "pig in a poke," nor are we asking you to purchase where a street car line may run some time in the distant future—IVEYWOOD is on the Oakland Traction Company's principal suburban line; East Fourteenth Street, where cars are passing every few minutes for the heart of the city.

What we are asking you to do is to hurry and get a choice homesite at IVEYWOOD before the Southern Pacific electrifies its Alameda mole ferry service; because values are going to climb when their loop trains are installed.

The Southern Pacific is not spending hundreds of thousands of dollars installing an electric interurban service from their Alameda mole to IVEYWOOD for the fun of it—they intend to help make this part of Oakland as thickly settled as the Key Route made the Santa Fe tract—they will make it more valuable, because IVEYWOOD is a restricted district where only attractive, well-built homes can be constructed. Yet you can own a homesite in IVEYWOOD for 12c a day.

DOMESTICATED CHICKEN IS TABOOED

Fowls in Albany to Have Liberty One Hour After Sunset.

CITY FATHERS CONSIDER ANTI-CHICKEN ORDINANCE

E. W. Cutchin Proposes Law to Keep Chickens, Geese, Ducks, Etc., Home.

BERKELEY, Feb. 10.—The ethical conduct of domesticated chickens is agitating the board of trustees of the little city of Albany, to the north of Berkeley. An ordinance is under consideration by the city fathers regarding the keeping of "any domesticated chicken or other fowl," and providing that the Albany chickens which have had the misfortune to become domesticated shall not be permitted to run abroad, excepting for a period of "one hour next preceding sunset of each day."

The ordinance, which was introduced at the request of E. W. Cutchin, one of the pioneer residents of the city, is considered by the city attorney, James A. Ballentine, to be a remarkable document both in its literary quality and legal phraseology.

Behind the introduction of the ordinance is a story involving the former poundmaster of Albany and several of its citizens. Harry Kalls, who held the office of poundmaster, insisted upon taking into custody all chickens found roaming at large on the highways of Albany. These he confined in the pound and permitted their indignant owners to rescue them at so much per head. After several protests to the board several of the residents began staking the chickens out in vacant lots. Kalls resigned his office some weeks ago, and since then the fowls have again been running at large.

CHICKEN ORDINANCE.

The ordinance which the city board of trustees has under consideration is as follows:

"An ordinance to prevent chickens and other fowls from running at large within the city of Albany.

"The Board of Trustees of the city of Albany do ordain as follows:

"Section 1. Say as in this ordinance hereinafter provided, it is hereby declared to be unlawful for any domesticated chicken or other fowl to run at large in the city of Albany.

"Section 2. Any person owning or controlling or having in his possession or control any duck, goose, turkey, chicken, or other domesticated fowl shall keep the same securely confined upon his own premises; provided, however, that chickens, ducks and geese may be permitted to run at large for one hour next preceding sunset of each day but at no other time or times.

"Section 3. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars and not less than ten dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail of the county of Alameda, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

"Section 4. This ordinance shall go into effect on the day of its passage and adoption."

Building Inspector John Davies made one of the best talks of the evening. He said "The sum of $185,000 has been expended on buildings in this city since May 13th, and the tax takers from these property holders alone will practically pay the interest and redemption on the bonds. Property owners need not be afraid that their taxes will be raised. As far as the necessity of the new school buildings is concerned, it has been seen by anyone who has inspected the Haight school that a new building is essential to the safety of the children. I have looked over the Haight school building from cellar to garret, and it would be preposterous to consider repairing it. A new structure must be erected."

Berkeley Society

BERKELEY, Feb. 10.—The wedding of Joseph F. Koford, Assistant City Attorney of Oakland, and Miss Kate Buckingham, a resident of Vacaville, is announced to take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Koford, on Wednesday, the 23d of this month.

Christmas trees stood as toastmaster.

Miss Louise M. Gompertz, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Gompertz of Bowditch street, was a passenger on the Manchuria Monday sailing for China and more or more tourists those two countries. A party of friends accompanied her to the Manchuria.

Miss Jessie Clark, who is spending the winter months in the East, is at present the guest of friends in New York. Letters from that city to friends here tell of a very successful trip. Miss Clark does not plan to return to Berkeley before another month or more has passed. She has visited during her absence many of the larger cities of the East.

Mrs. Thomas Richard, Mrs. Raymond Wilson and Mrs. Earl Webb have arranged for an extra dance in the series which have been so greatly enjoyed by a group of the married folk. This will be a fancy dress ball to be held in Town and Down clubhouse. Many original and handsome costumes are being made for the affair. To a great extent the valentine suggestion will be carried out in the decorations and arrangements for the evening.

OPPOSED TO BONDS; CLAIMS REFUTED

Alamedan Says Taxes Are Too High and Criticizes Curriculum of Schools.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 10.—Opposition to the school bonds was voiced last night at the meeting of citizens at the Porter school by J. C. Adams, a resident of this city. His arguments were refuted by Will C. Wood, Superintendent of Schools, with the result that all those in attendance spoke in favor of the bonds.

The speakers on this occasion were Dr. F. W. Dreyer, Samuel Frank, A. B. Coffey, Alexander Markie, J. C. Adams and Superintendent Wood. The speeches were varied by selections from the school orchestra, which received the hearty applause of the audience.

Davies stated that he had heard some opposition to the bonds on the part of people who had vacant houses in the city, but gave as his opinion that these dwellings would remain idle until better provision could be made for the school children.

A. F. C. said that he had pointed out the conditions, as expressed by the other speakers, as true.

Samuel Frank made a plea for the children, stating that his generation could not do too much for the coming generation.

Dr. Dreyer talked from a sanitary standpoint and deplored the fact that the children had remained in basements as long as they had. "It is not practicing economy to house your children in dark and damp rooms. In what doctor's bills and suffering from ill health."

J. C. Adams said: "The taxes in Alameda are too high as it is. They are higher than the taxes in the cities of San Francisco and San Jose. We should have a lower rate and the bonds will certainly not tend to accomplish this."

In refutation, Assemblyman Frank Otis replied that it was unfair to compare with that of another city. Wood stated that the salaries in California are higher than those in Massachusetts and that for reason Eastern salaries come here for employment. "Where there are good and sufficient salaries, the taxes must accordingly be higher," he said.

He pointed out that the tax rate in Alameda ranks low in scales as compared with other cities in California. As to the curriculum he said that the course of study taught in Alameda is practical, as deduced from actual tests.

His superior to the best schools of the old type in which only the three R's, reading, writing and arithmetic, are taught.

The Deputy Assessor will begin their work in the Assessor's office on Monday, February 14th, setting the records in shape for the assessing season, which begins on March 1st. Both deputies are thoroughly familiar with the work. Ader was employed as a deputy last year.

Rehearsals are now on under the direction of Garnet Holme, university-trained actress. The play will be given March 17 in the Macdonough theater and great interest is being taken in the announcement among the college thespians.

The action centers around three main characters, the Hon. Vere Queckett, a fastidious esthete, who is not too fastidious to allow the school mistress to support him. A complication is introduced by the daring and impudent ingenue of the play, Peggy Hesteridge. This part is taken by Miss Mildred Martin, who has won a place for herself as a clever actress in the English club production, "The House of Rimmon, in the Greek theater. She will appear before the college public in a comedy for the first time in the coming play.

WIDOW HAS NOT BEEN TOLD OF DEATH.

Mrs. Sarah Rising Hovering Between Life and Death at Old Home.

BERKELEY, February 10.—Lying near to death in the old family residence in Chapel street, Mrs. Sarah F. Rising, widow of Professor Rising, the veteran faculty member of the University of California, who was found dead in bed yesterday morning, has not been told of the death of her husband. Mrs. Rising is hovering between life and death, and the physicians fear the knowledge of the death of her mate of a lifetime would prove fatal to her chances of recovery.

Mrs. Rising has been ill for some time, and it would appear, according to the physicians, that she has guessed something of the sorrow that has come upon the house, although she has been so weak that she is not allowed to talk or ask questions. It is thought that she has missed the accustomed visit of her husband to the bedside and the physicians fear that she may not rally. Should this be the case, she may pass away without the knowledge of her husband's death.

LAST OF OLD SCIENTISTS.

Professor Rising was one of the last of the old school of professors and scientists who have passed away from the State University faculty. He was associated with the faculty for more than two score years, he was the oldest professor at the university. Commencing shortly after the death of Professor Irving Stringham, acting head of the university, and one of the old guard, his death marks the beginning of the thinning out of the ranks of the pioneer educators who have for so many years formed a well-known group at Berkeley.

AWAIT RELATIVES.

The men named by Acting President Alexis F. Lange as a committee on resolutions and memorial exercises have been associated as the heads of departments at the State University for a score of years and more. They have not yet made plans for the memorial exercises in honor of their comrade of many years, as the exercises will probably not be held until after the funeral. The funeral will not be for nearly a week, as arrangements have been deferred until the arrival of Miss Alice Rising and Lawrence Rising from New York.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Resolutions framed by the memorial committee of professors will be placed in the hands of the Regents of the University and will be spread on the minutes of the following body. The memorial committee consists of Professors Edmund O'Neill, Eugene Hildgard, Cornelius Beach Bradley, Bernard Moses and William Carey Jones.

PIONEER EAST OAKLAND RESIDENT SUMMONED

ALAMEDA, Feb. 10.—John Harrington, a resident of East Oakland for twenty-three years and a father of Joseph Harrington, a well known printer, died this morning at his home, 1310 Twelfth avenue, after an illness of three months.

Deceased was taken ill on Christmas day and never regained his health. He was seventy years of age. The Harrington family is widely known and has many friends in this city, where Joseph Harrington was formerly engaged in business. He is now the manager of The Leader, a San Francisco ecclesiastical journal, edited by the Rev. Father Peter Kott.

John Harrington owned a retail cigar store on Twelfth avenue in East Oakland. He was active and able to attend to his business until he was taken ill. He is survived by a widow, Mary Harrington, and five children, Walter, Thomas, Joseph, George and Beatrice. He was the brother of the late Mr. Lawrence of the Notre Dame convent in Chicago. Deceased was a native of Prince Edward Island, Canada.

His funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from his late residence, thence to St. Anthony's church, where a requiem high mass will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Interment will follow in St. Mary's cemetery.

THREATENED FAMILY IS NOT INSANE, IS FINDING

ALAMEDA, Feb. 10.—For the second time within a few weeks, C. D. Trotter living at 1435 Sixth street, this city, has been discharged by the lunacy commissioners, although his son, C. D. Trotter Jr., has had him arrested twice on the charge of insanity.

Trotter's form of mental affliction, according to his son, takes a violent turn when he is intoxicated and on these occasions he holds his family at bay at the point of a shotgun, refusing to allow them to enter his room. His threats to kill them on two recent occasions have so alarmed them that excited calls for aid have been sent to the police station, with the result that Trotter has been taken into custody.

Judge Elmer E. Johnson said today that the case against Trotter warranted the issuance of a warrant for his arrest. He was engaged in the tailoring business in Orville until he was forced to give it up on account of his drinking and drinking habits, according to his family.

The district attorney dismissed Trotter this morning. He was placed in a detention ward in the Receiving hospital yesterday pending his examination on the charge of insanity today. His family will probably prefer a charge of disturbing the peace against him.

THREATENED FAMILY IS NOT INSANE, IS FINDING

ALAMEDA, Feb. 10.—For the second time within a few weeks, C. D. Trotter living at 1435 Sixth street, this city, has been discharged by the lunacy commissioners, although his son, C. D. Trotter Jr., has had him arrested twice on the charge of insanity.

Trotter's form of mental affliction, according to his son, takes a violent turn when he is intoxicated and on these occasions he holds his family at bay at the point of a shotgun, refusing to allow them to enter his room. His threats to kill them on two recent occasions have so alarmed them that excited calls for aid have been sent to the police station, with the result that Trotter has been taken into custody.

Judge Elmer E. Johnson said today that the case against Trotter warranted the issuance of a warrant for his arrest. He was engaged in the tailoring business in Orville until he was forced to give it up on account of his drinking and drinking habits, according to his family.

The district attorney dismissed Trotter this morning. He was placed in a detention ward in the Receiving hospital yesterday pending his examination on the charge of insanity today. His family will probably prefer a charge of disturbing the peace against him.

S.S.S. CURES RHEUMATISM

"YOU ADVISED ME TO USE S. S. S. FOR RHEUMATISM. I DID SO AND IT CURED ME."

The above is an extract from a letter which we publish below, from Mr. J. O'Malley. As he says, we advised him to use S. S. S. for Rheumatism, and at the same time we told him why it would cure him. In this short talk we want to tell every one who is suffering with Rheumatism, about the principle on which S. S. S. works, and explain exactly how it cures this disease. We believe you will agree with us that it is the only possible way in which to cure the trouble.

The cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood. This uric impurity gets into the circulation by absorption, usually because of chronic constipation, weak kidneys, and other systemic irregularities. Then the blood becomes weak and sour, and irritating urate particles are formed in this vital fluid. When in this impure condition the blood cannot furnish the necessary amount of nourishment to the different muscles, tendons, nerves and ligaments of the body. Instead, it constantly steepens them in the briny, acid matter, and the gritty, urate particles collect in the joints, which causes the pains, aches and soreness of Rheumatism. Gradually every symptom grows worse, the pains are more frequent and severe, the muscles become sore and tender, and constant contact with the acid blood slowly dries up the natural fluids of the joints, causing the knees, ankles, fingers, etc., to become swollen and stiff.

There is but one way to cure Rheumatism, and that is to cleanse the blood of the uric acid poison. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and attacks the disease at its head. It removes the cause for the reason that it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It filters out every trace of the sour, inflammatory matter, cools the acid-heated blood, furnishes the material for multiplying the rich, nutritious corpuscles, and by its tonic effects assists the system to rapidly overcome every symptom of the disease. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and may be used by any one with perfect safety. The fact that S. S. S. has been curing Rheumatism for more than forty years is one of the reasons why we say it will cure you. Special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired, to all who write and request same.

Fruitvale Will Have a Brilliant Street Carnival

EAGLES' FAIR TO BE GALA EVENT FOR ANNEXED DISTRICT

QUEEN WILL BE SELECTED TO REIGN OVER THE PRETTY FETE

SUPERVISOR BRIDGE, CHAIRMAN OF THE AFFAIR, IS SANGUINE OF ITS SUCCESS

Fruitvale Aerie of Eagles No. 1375 met last evening and named Supervisor W. C. Bridge chairman of the executive committee which is to have charge of the grand street fair and carnival to take place in that section of Greater Oakland early in May. Much enthusiasm was expressed last evening at the meeting and the men chosen to serve on the committees for the affair were ready with their promises to devote their energies to the coming event which will be the first big celebration of the kind Fruitvale has ever had. Although the carnival will be under the auspices of the lodge of Eagles the merchants of the town who are not members of the order have signified that their hearty support can be counted upon.

The fair is to serve two purposes: One to attest to the wonderful growth of that section and to celebrate the annexation to Oakland, and the other to mark the completion of the new Eagle building now in course of construction to cost $30,000. Fruitvale boasts of one of the most flourishing lodges of the Eagles in the State of California, and the rapid increase which this lodge has made in membership is a source of great gratification to this section of the city.

For these reasons the carnival is to be held on the first of May, the greatest affair of its kind in Alameda county for some time. At the meeting of the order last evening preliminary plans were discussed, although no program was arranged, and the members at the meeting were enthusiastic in their zeal to commence at once on the preparations for the event.

TO ADVERTISE SECTION.

It is planned to advertise this thrifty and prosperous section of the city through the street fair, and it is promised that in return for the many visitors who are expected to attend a great deal will be given them in the form of amusement and entertainment. It is significant that the Fruitvale celebration will be the first large affair of the kind in the county this year, and the committees are urging this point in their requests for contributions which will make the carnival a grand success in every detail.

As is usual with street fairs of the kind planned levity will be the order of the time and the streets where the booths are to be situated will be the Mecca for those who desire to exert themselves in providing all kinds of fun for themselves and others. The coming of many side shows and concessions of a varied sort are expected and will be arranged for, while the merchants of the town are looked to to provide themselves with numerous booths where hospitality will be dispensed for a good and more concrete material and gifts for small pieces of the coin of the realm.

WILL HAVE A QUEEN.

A queen will reign and her selection, as well as that of her maids-in-waiting, is to be one of the first thoughts of the committee named last evening. The crowning of the "first lady in the land" will be the signal for the highest pitch of revelry, and Fruitvale and her residents look forward to a climax of the fair at this particular time which will give it its proper place among like celebrations in this section of the state.

The decorating of the streets will be a most important feature of the carnival. In this time, when so many novelties are obtainable for the festooning of a home or business building, it is an easy matter and one of little expense to provide decoration which is not only exceedingly attractive but which will lend an air of gaiety to the scene of action otherwise impossible.

The two streets to be given over to the revelers are to be East Fourteenth street from Fruitvale avenue to Central avenue, and Fruitvale avenue from East Fourth street to the Southern Pacific tracks. Along these usual lines of traffic the booths will be lined, and the popcorn, pink lemonade and noise-makers distributed. The streets will be dispensed with and business as usual, but with the addition of the ever-festive business man, as well as the ever-festive resident, will mingle with the younger and older generations in the celebration Fruitvale has planned. RECEIPT FOR WARDING OFF AGE.

Fat is commonplace—middle aged. It stamps a woman as being past the period of youth. Hence it lessens her influence. She may charm still by her brightness of face, but the lines which have crept into the fine figure which has been the pride of her youth are not to be regained, and that easily. Youth as expressed in the straight front, the lithe hips, the lithe outline, is not beyond recall. Let any woman who is too well filled out, take a Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and at bedtime. The slightness of youth will come back to her. Off will go the fat, unbecoming and smooth, revealing the foundation of the lost youthful form beneath.

Try this method. No exercising or dieting is necessary to take off a pound a day. The Tablets will do it alone. No wrinkles or bagged lines will form; instead the health, the brightness and the fitness will increase. The Marmola Prescription Tablet is absolutely non-injurious (being made of the famous fashionable formula, 1/2 oz. Marmola, 1/2 oz. E. C. Cream, Aromatic 3/4 oz. of Peppermint Water); and it is also inexpensive, a large case, enough to show results, costing, at any drug store, 25 cents. Marmola, Detroit, Mich., only twenty-five cents.

SAYS FAIR WILL BE BIG THING FOR THE DISTRICT

"The street fair which the Eagles and business men of Fruitvale have planned jointly will be the biggest affair this section of Greater Oakland has ever attempted," said Supervisor W. C. Bridge this morning.

The supervisor has been appointed chairman of the executive committee from the lodge of Eagles with power to appoint all the other committees to have charge of the street carnival. Mr. Bridge states that it will take time to gather the manner of men about him whom he desires, as he feels that the work at hand is of considerable importance and worthy of concerted action on the part of those who have the best interests of Fruitvale at heart.

"We will surpass the efforts of every community on this side of the bay," he said. "Fruitvale will show to the rest of the county that the spirit of go-ahead predominates here and the success of the fair as we hope for it will more than attest for this. This section of the city is exceptionally proud of the local lodge of Eagles and the order has the hearty support of the business men in the carnival planned to take place in May.

"We look forward to thousands of visitors and will make their visit here both entertaining and educating."

Not only does Fruitvale in particular look forward to the big affair, but Melrose and Diamond are also prepared to lend their aid and to reap in some of the benefits of the carnival. The people of these sections are also intent on making the fair a great success, and the business men are ready to lend material aid in promoting the best benefits to be obtained from the big show.

WILL LEND THEIR AID.

The building association having the erection of the new Eagles' building in charge is the prime mover in the whole preparation, and has succeeded in awakening a great interest in the coming carnival.

The new building of the Eagles' will consist of a three-story brick structure near the corner of East Fourteenth street and Merrill avenue, on a lot 50x150 feet. The front of the structure will be of glazed brick and plate glass, with two storeys of fifty feet depth on the ground floor. An auditorium will also occupy the ground floor and be 100x50 feet. The room will have a stage in the rear two stories in height. In the front of the building on the second floor will be the beautiful modern lodge room, the billiard hall, refreshment bar and ladies' parlor and reception rooms.

HALL IS UNFINISHED.

The third floor, with larger and more commodious lodge rooms and a banquet hall will not be finished this May, but will be completed within a year from the time the present plans are realized.

The members of the building committee which has worked for the erection of the new building now under way is composed of Charles F. Lee, J. O. Albright, Dr. L. B. Smith, A. A. Atkinson, John Macdonald, Arthur A. Barber, Lyman Harford, J. C. Holland, C. A. Jeffers and C. E. Taylor.

The officers of the Fruitvale Aerie of Eagles are: James C. Holland, president; A. A. Atkinson, vice-president; Emil Jacobson, chaplain; John Macdonald, secretary; P. H. Blake Jr., treasurer; William F. Fisher, inside guard; A. O. T. Tannerberg, outside guard; Charles Goodwin, conductor; Leo W. Baldwin, musician; Dr. L. B. Smith, physician; Charles A. Jeffers, Charles E. Taylor and A. C. Byrnes.

MELROSE, Feb. 10.—"Preferential Voting" and a comparison of the present Oakland city charter with that of Grand Junction, Colo., which he believed to be the most perfect in the country, were the subjects upon which William Farmer spoke before the Melrose Citizens' Club last night. POWER COMPANIES BEGINNING TO COMPETE

New Institution is Granted a Franchise to Enter Town of Hayward.

HOLD BOOSTERS MEETING WHEN TRUSTEES QUIT

Fruitvale Asks Support for the Proposed Big Cherry Festival.

HAYWARD, Feb. 10.—The adjourned meeting of the board of trustees was held in the town hall last night. All members were present. The principal matter taken up was the passing to print of a call for bids on a franchise to be granted an electric light and power company for the use of the streets of the town and the erection of such poles, towers, wiring, etc., as will be necessary for the carrying on of the business.

Although the Suburban Light and Power company are firmly established in the territory, it is evident that they will have competition before many months have passed.

A new company, the Peoples Light and Power company, will bid on the franchise, which is to run for thirty-five years. Publication will be completed by April 6 and on that date bids will be opened by the board and the franchise awarded.

The territory to be covered by the Peoples company will be Alameda county outside of the city of Oakland. Power will be supplied from a mammoth plant at Clinton station.

TO BE READY IN JULY.

D. U. Toffelmier, representing the new company, stated that they expected to have things in shape to commence business by the first of July. Matters of franchise are still pending in San Leandro and other towns.

The report of the fire and water committee recommended the purchase of twelve fire protectors and 240 feet of hose. It was accepted and the committee instructed to advertise for bids on the same. The street and building committee reported that a bulkhead was needed to enclose the new dumping grounds and that 7500 feet of lumber would be required. Bids will also be called for.

A permit was given H. Meek to cross H street with a four inch water main, and petitions for the installation of several new street lights were received and referred to the fire and water committee.

HOLD BOOSTERS MEETING.

A boosters meeting followed the adjournment of the board with a large number present. The hall was started rolling for a Fourth of July celebration. C. W. Hyre presided and stated that while it was a little early to start rolling, it was none too soon to commence the boom.

Senator Strubbridge said: "I think that Hayward is now prepared to give one of the regular old time celebrations. The streets are in fine condition and by that time they will be in much better shape."

Representatives were present from Leandro who stated that it was the wish of the people of that town to assist Hayward in its celebration, and that Hayward would back them in their Cherry Carnival. Said Attorney Locks of San Leandro:

"The hammer has been laid aside by these two towns and in harmony for the commercial advancement of this section. We will do all in our power to assist."

From the enthusiasm shown there is no doubt but what both events will be entirely successful. Both towns will work in unison for they have arrived at the conclusion that their interests are identical.

COLLEGE TO GIVE DEBATING TROPHY

University of California Will Offer Cup to High School Debating League.

BERKELEY, Feb. 10.—In order to encourage debating among the high schools of the State the University of California is to establish a perpetual trophy for an annual high school oratorical contest. The trophy will probably be in the form of a large loving-cup, on which the names of the winners will be engraved each year. It is expected that a provision shall be made that upon the cup being won a certain number of times successively it will become the property of one school for good. Until it is thus won as a final trophy, it will be held each year by the winner for that year.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Students last night it was decided that the graduate manager and president of the student body should act as a committee of two to select a trophy, the cost of which is to be about $40. This will be offered in the annual contest of the High School Debating Oratorical League at Southern California.

I'll Slap Your Face, Was Her Reply to "Hands Up"

NEW YORK.—"A girl like that could kick a whole roomful of boys like you, gun or no gun," said Recorder McGovern in Hoboken yesterday, addressing Hugo Wachendorf, seventeen years old, of No. 600 Grand street, who had been arrested charged with threatening with a revolver Agnes Keyle, sixteen years old, of No. 721 Monroe street.

Miss Keyle who looks as if she could take care of herself in an emergency, told the recorder that she was on her way home last Sunday evening when Wachendorf stopped her and, presenting a revolver, told her to throw up her hands.

"I wasn't at all frightened," she said, and I said to him, "You put that away or I'll slap your face."

Policeman Romano said he saw the glint of the revolver from across the street and arrested the boy. Miss Keyle said she did not think Wachendorf meant harm, but was only trying to scare her.

The boy protested that it was all a joke and that the revolver was not loaded. After expressing his appreciation of Miss Keyle's prowess the court told Wachendorf not to play any more such jokes and let him go.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

Mrs. George H. Kendall of Nashua, who has just been re-elected president of the New Hampshire Woman's Humane Association, attended to 1,000 humane cases during the past year, exclusive of warnings.

Mary C. C. Bradford has lately been the recipient of two honors. Governor Shafroth appointed her a delegate to the National Civic Federation on Uniform Legislation and she was elected vice-president of the Jane Jefferson (Democratic) club of Denver.

Stony Wold Hall, Miss Blanche Potter's memorial to her sister, Miss Martha Potter, has been formally turned over to the Stony Wold Sanitarium of New York. This hall, with other buildings included in Miss Potter's gift, cost $75,000. Mrs. Walter Geer, a sister of the Misses Potter, has given an organ to the institution.

The inscription on Mrs. Carlyle's tomb was written by her famous husband, and prove what gratitude he felt for her loving care and attention. "In her bright existence she had more sorrows than are common, but also a soft invincibility, a capacity of discernment, and a noble loyalty of heart which are rare. For forty years she was the true and loving helpmate of her husband, and by act and word unwearily forwarded him as none else could in all of worth that he did or attempted. She died in London, April 26, 1865, suddenly, snatched away from him, and the light of his life is as if gone out."

Found Strange Man in Her Bed

NEW YORK.—When you wander into an apartment and lay you down to pleasant dreams, only to be awakened before long by the screams of the young woman who owns the apartment, and who explains to the police that there is a man sleeping in her bed and that she wants him arrested you don't often get off with a reprimand from the court. But that's what happened to Patrick Morton, of No. 335 East Thirty-ninth street yesterday.

Miss Ophelia Cobb, who is thirty-seven years old, found Morton in her bed sleeping peacefully when she returned Thursday night to her apartment at No. 335 West Thirty-eighth street. She first screamed till help was well on the way, and then fainted. Someone thought it must be a fire and turned in an alarm, while others contented themselves with telephoning for the police. Miss Cobb was told Magistrate Brown, of the West Side Police Court, that he is a laborer and has a wife and five children. He explained that he had drunk a little more on Thursday night than is his custom and mistook Miss Cobb's flat for his own home. When discharged with a reprimand, he promised to be more careful in the future.

Mrs. George West Finds Profit in House-Renting

LONDON.—Mrs. George West regretted the necessity that compelled her to accept Mrs. Joseph Stickney's generous offer for her house on Great Cumberland Place last season. She let the lovely, newly decorated house and went to live at her little club in Dover street or stayed with her sons or at her sister's house. As soon as Mrs. Stickney went out she took Countess Pappenheim as a new tenant and leased the house to her until January 1, when Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Mott became the tenants. They are now installed in this coveted residence.

In the eight months since its completion Mrs. West has obtained $32,500 by letting to Americans. This has emboldened her to take another Mayfair residence, on Norfolk street this time, which she intends to decorate and let.

Mrs. West and her sister, Mrs. John Leslie, are experts in house decorating. The latter once owned four London residences. All were much sought after. Mrs. Leslie helped with the scheme of decoration for Clarence House, which the Duchess of Connaught had renovated two seasons ago.

The Suffragette

If there had been an eleventh commandment forbidding equal suffrage we would have had a straight line of women Presidents since the time of Pharaoh's daughter, says Ethel Lloyd Patterson, in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A man believes that for a woman to think about almost anything is wrong. A woman knows everything a man thinks about is wrong.

A woman with a dyed head is usually a deadhead.

"Taxation without representation" is what a man objects to when his wife goes through his trousers pockets while he sleeps.

A man never makes a good resolution until it is too late. That is why women are wondering what the string on their suffrage will be.

As it now stands, it is a greater sin for one woman to paint her face than for a dozen men to paint the town.

A man imagines when he ceases to love a woman she will sink to dowdiness and suffrage. As a matter of fact she more often gets another man and a seal-skin saccage.

Women who have never thought about suffrage are the kind who get up early because they have so much to do, and go to bed early because they have nothing to do.

Mabel Hite, Actress, Likes TO SIGN CHECKS

NEW YORK.—Mabel Hite, wife of Mike Donlin, the former Giant ballplayer just loves to write checks. She admitted this today on the witness stand in the Third District Municipal Court, where she was defendant in an action brought against her by Mrs. Cecilia Edelstein, a furrier of 1556 Broadway, for $155 for a neck piece and muff ordered by Mrs. Donlin for September for her mother.

"I want pointed fox and the very latest style," Mrs. Donlin said she insisted in ordering the furs. When they were delivered, Mrs. Donlin asserts, they were not of the latest style.

Mrs. Donlin admitted that she made out a check on delivery without examining the goods. After she and her husband returned from the show that night they found that the furs did not suit.

"What shall I do?" she said she asked. "I've paid for them and they don't suit."

"Stop payment on the check," said the practical Mike, according to his wife's story. This was done the following morning. Consequently the suit.

Mrs. Donlin could not be called belittling in court, but her counsel, Joseph Levy, admonished her several times not to lose her temper during her cross-examination by former Magistrate Droegge who represented the plaintiff.

She declined to admit her age in response to a question by Mr. Droegge, but said she had been on the stage ten years. Her mother, she said, is about 40 years old.

"You're cautious about your business affairs," said Mr. Droegge.

"I usually get along all right," replied Mrs. Donlin. "But I will admit that signing that check was very silly of me."

Mr. Droegge asked Justice Noonan to strike out the latter part of the answer.

"You can cross out anything you want to," interrupted Mrs. Donlin.

"You don't sign checks right offhand, do you?" asked counsel for the plaintiff.

"I just love to write checks," replied Mrs. Donlin, and her better half looked sheepish as the folk in the court room laughed.

The trial is still on.

Smoke Expert Blows Away Household Haze

ST. LOUIS.—While her parents thought she was learning to love another man, Mrs. Meta Mapel was only falling more deeply in love with her divorced husband, Lewis A. Mapel.

The other man's calls, it now appears, were only a screen behind which the young woman hid her meetings with Mapel, to whom her parents were opposed. The other man seems to have understood this, for he was the first to offer his congratulations after Mapel and Mrs. Mapel were remarried Wednesday afternoon by Judge Williams, who granted Mrs. Mapel a divorce last August.

The second marriage was a surprise to the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schwartz of 3136 Nebraska avenue. Mrs. Mapel left their home Wednesday without a hat to go to a butcher shop.

She went to the store and bought meat, which she left at the home of a relative at 2782 Arsenal street, promising to return for it. She did not return, and the relatives sent the meat to the Schwartz home in time for a belated dinner. In the meantime Mrs. Mapel and her husband were celebrating their second wedding. Their first marriage, in 1904, was also an elopement.

Mapel has lived, since the divorce, with his father at 325 Nebraska avenue. He was until recently a deputy smoke inspector. Last summer he and other smoke experts designed a smoke-preventing device, and bound themselves not to tell anyone about it until the patent was obtained. He worked with the others at night on the details of the invention, and he says that certain persons persuaded his wife that he was neglecting her.

Mapel was unable to explain his absence, and was plagued at her distrust of him, and the situation developed which led to the divorce.

Mrs. Mapel says now she understands, and that she hopes a wife's rights and a patent right will not conflict in her case again.

Artist Fined on the Senora's Mashing Charge

ST. LOUIS.—James Waring, an artist, living at 4926 Forest Park boulevard, was fined $225 and costs by a jury in the Clark Avenue Police Court Thursday on a charge of "mashing" preferred by Mrs. Marie Jennings, a dark-eyed senora, who succumbed to the wooing of an American soldier during the war in Cuba. She is now a widow and a teacher of Spanish, and lives at 17 Rugby place.

"That man," she testified with Spanish accent, "met me on the evening of January 22, as I was on the way to the home of Mrs. William C. Harlan at 1179 North King's highway. I was taking a short cut across a vacant lot at King's highway and Morgan street.

"He put out his hand seized one of mine and dragged me to him. Then he threw both arms about me and embraced me. He tried to kiss me, but I tore myself loose and ran to Mrs. Harlan's home. He pursued me.

"The door was opened by Miss Scheffler, a visitor, and I ran in. He came up the steps and rang the bell. When there was no answer he tried the door. Then he stood in front of the house for ten minutes, waiting for me to come out.

"Mrs. Harlan sent the janitor for a policeman and he arrested my annoyances as he stood before the house. I have had a nervous breakdown since from the shock."

Mrs. Harlan and Miss Scheffler confirmed Mrs. Jennings' statement. Mrs. Harlan added:

"Waring came to my house the next day with a lawyer and begged me to have Mrs. Jennings drop the case.

"My client is worth $50,000," said the attorney, "and is a prominent man. You should accept his apologies and persuade your friend not to prosecute."

"I told him, in behalf of Mrs. Jennings, that no apology would be accepted and that the case would be taken into court."

Waring, a stout man of middle height, immaculately clad, took the stand.

"I was celebrating my forty-ninth birthday," he said, "and had several

"We're Not Slobs," Says New York Alderman, but Gets Sharp Retort for His Language

NEW YORK.—Joseph Schloss, a New York alderman and a butcher, was rouled by a band of militant suffragettes, who "isted the aldermanic chamber of the city hall, recently, to urge the passage of an ordinance requiring all food-stuffs placed in cold storage to be labeled.

Schloss, who opposed the resolution on the floor, mentally collided with the suffrage delegation in a committee room. "Go home and mind your homes and babies. What are you bawling in on the aldermanic floor?" he shouted.

"You can't make a fool out of me," he continued. "I know what I am talking about. These women ought to be at their homes. They have no right bawling around here trying to tell us what to do."

"The trouble with you women is that you think us butchers are a lot of slob and bums."

"Judging by your language," said Mrs. Sophia Loebinger, "you have not done much to change our opinion. You are very far from being a gentleman."

Other aldermen surrounded Schloss at this point and the women departed. Aside from the tiff with Mr. Schloss, the suffragettes had it out with the arrogant-at-arms for refusing to let them go on the floor. President Mitchell, of the board of aldermen, had given them permission to express their views on the proposed meat ordinance, and this was construed as an invitation to go on the floor of the chamber proper.

With the demand from consumers fallen off to a greater extent than ever before in the history of the trade, the retail dealers in meats found an advancing scale of prices in wholesale markets confronting them today.

"Something has got to drop hard pretty soon," was a market man's remark. "Suffragettes are piling up and the cold storage capacity of the city is limited. Already egg men are throwing over their holdings at reduced rates and butter has come down. Meat will have to follow if the reduced rate of consumption is maintained, no matter if shipments are heavily reduced."

Investigation of the relation between cold storage and the high prices of food was begun today by the Hudson county, New Jersey, grand jury. Subpoenas were served upon the employees of meat-packing companies. Among those expected to appear are James Brady, New Jersey manager for Swift & Co. of Chicago, and representatives of the Merchants' Refrigerator company.

The Jersey City storage warehouses are among the largest in or near New York city.

When his fine was announced, Waring, in some excitement, said that he would take an appeal.

POLICE STILL BAFFLED BY MOUNTAIN CRIME

Captain of Detectives Sure
Dead Girl Was Not a San Franciscan.

EXPECT TO FIND MAN
WHO REPAIRED WATCH

Investigate the Letter of Turlock Woman in the Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The Detective Department here unearthed no new clues to the Mount Tamalpais murder mystery today and Captain of Detectives Anderson professes himself as satisfied that the dead girl was not a local resident.

A complete description of the man who is alleged to have had the girl's watch repaired in Eureka is expected from the chief of police from that city today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—A new clew which it is thought may have some bearing on the effort to establish the identity of the girl whose skeleton was found on Mt. Tamalpais has been found in the record of Frank Wansky, a Eureka jeweler, who believes that a gold watch brought to him for repair by James McKay, as far back as 1902, was the one found on the body of the slain woman.

Wansky's records show that a man named McKay brought the timepiece to him on September 16, 1902. His record shows several slight discrepancies from the figures taken from the watch, but the former are very old and carelessly kept, and the record book itself has been torn up.

AS TO WATCH.
The records show that the watch brought to Wansky was a Seth-Thomson stem-winding timepiece with a Keystone case. They also show the jeweler's repair number of 1039, which appears in the watch round with the skeleton. On the same page appears the number of the works of the watch, with the exception that Wansky's records show a "2" instead of a "5." Wansky attaches little or no importance to this discrepancy, explaining that he might easily have made a mistake in entering the number on his records.

NUMBER PARTLY GONE.
The number in the case of the woman's watch was 2,114,9. Part of this number is missing from the records of the jeweler, the page of the book having been torn in a broken, diagonal direction. The "2" and the "1" are the figures missing from the combination, the figures in the records reading "61149."

ALTERED UNDERSKIRT.
A second discovery which may prove of assistance is that the murdered girl had made an alteration in the length of her white underskirt by cutting it completely from the waistband, taking out a strip of cloth clear around the garment and then roughly sewing it back in place by hand. It is thought that the crudity of the work, which is clearly that of inexperienced hands, may have attracted the attention of some laundress or that someone may have seen the girl patiently running the rough seam.

CLEW A BLIND ONE.
Investigation of the statement contained in a letter from Mrs. Pearl Wells of Turlock that she made the acquaintance early in November of a woman bound for Seattle who was in search of a man named Frank, an employee of the Mount Tamalpais Railroad, with whom she had had some trouble, developed the fact that but one employee with that given name has ever been connected with the road.

He is Frank Thomas, master mechanic. He is still with the road and bears such an excellent reputation in Mill Valley, where he lives, that the

He Only Lived One Hour After
Ceremony and Attorney
Makes Demands.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—A fee of $3,500 for advising a client to marry a man who lived one hour after the ceremony is demanded by Attorney Seth F. Crews in a suit brought yesterday against Mrs. Sarah Smith, widow of the late John R. Smith, a wealthy mine owner.

Smith died in September, 1908, at St. Luke's Hospital. Mrs. Smith, then Miss Sarah Peterson, had been engaged to the mine operator seven or eight years. Attorney Crews declares she came to him for advice as to whether her marriage would be binding if it was a death bed affair.

The attorney counseled her to go ahead, and the marriage was performed. By the death of her husband she fell heir to $400,000.

Dies at Age of 113.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Pauline Brooks, the oldest resident in New York City, who has lived in three centuries, is dead at her home here. She was 113 years old. Mrs. Brooks never wore glasses and had never been so seriously ill as to require the services of a physician.

Loie Fuller Balks Law.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Two deputy sheriffs armed with property executions made an unexpected visit to the apartments of Loie Fuller, the dancer, yesterday, in the Hoffman House, in expectation of finding something that might aid in paying two judgments against her. After a chat with La Loie, during which she assured the officials that the only asset available was her ability to please the public, the visitors went away empty handed. The judgments which the deputies sought to collect had been obtained by Catherine Donovan, a modiste, and Edward Bonaguidi, an artist. The former was for $712 and the latter for $384. Miss Fuller promised to pay both bills as soon as possible.

Mother and Father Charged.

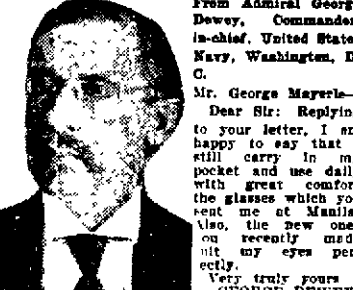

LA JUNTA, Colo., Feb. 10.—Charging that the death of three children was due to the refusal of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Messenger, to secure medical aid, C. J. Selley, local representative of the State Board of Child and Animal Protection, yesterday took legal steps to overcome the religious beliefs of the parents and thereby secured the installation of a physician and nurse in the Messenger home where two other children are seriously ill. A sixth child is said to be just recovering from a long sickness. The three died from diphtheria.

Brooms Will Take Jump.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Feb. 10.—House wives may within a few months be compelled to pay a dollar for an ordinary broom is the discouraging prediction of the large manufacturers of this commodity in Southern Indiana. Evansville factories are reported to be offering three times the normal price for broom corn and find an extremely scarce article even at that figure. It is stated that with the supply now on hand, if an equal division could be made, there is only enough broom corn in the country to supply two brooms to each family and the next harvest is months away.

Many farmers in the vicinity of New Albany, encouraged by the prevailing high prices, will supplant other crops this year with broom corn.

WOMAN WAKES WHEN THIEF ENTERS ROOM

Desperate Burglar Snaps His Pistol Against Breast of Husband.

SUSPECT IS HELD IN
DETINUE BY POLICE

Jose Morales is Believed to be Implicated in the Bold
Burglary.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Startled suddenly from sleep by a tall man armed with a revolver, who stood glowering over the bed in her room, Mrs. Frank Sylvestra of 12 Reed place screamed with terror at 1:35 this morning and aroused her husband, who slept by her side.

At the first cry from her lips the burglar, who had noiselessly gained access to the apartment, fingered his trigger nervously. He hesitated a moment, and then as Sylvestra, realizing the situation, grabbed a revolver from beneath his pillow, the thug made off down the back stairs. Sylvestra pursued and fired two shots at the fugitive.

Without waiting to even put on his shoes he ran down stairs, hoping to capture the robber, and was surprised and taken back when the man, who had been hiding behind a small fence, suddenly stepped in front of him with his revolver placed against his breast.

THE TRIGGER SNAPS.

He pulled the trigger but the cartridge did not explode. Sylvestra raised his own weapon, but the burglar turned and ran rapidly down the street. Sylvestra next fired three shots to attract attention and Police-men Savage and Manion came quickly to the house.

Mrs. Sylvestra was still extremely nervous, but it was found that $7 had been taken from a pocket in her skirt, while her husband's clothing had apparently been undisturbed. The culprit had entered through a rear window left unlatched and had struck matches to light his way to the room of the couple. Shortly after leaving the premises and while searching for the burglar the officers came upon Jose Morales standing in the doorway of his home, 321 Green street.

HIS STORIES CONFLICT.

He was closely questioned, but said he had been in his house since 8 o'clock in the evening. Officer Savage, however, remembered meeting him at midnight and talking to him at Kearny and Green streets. A Fedora hat, dropped by the burglar in the Sylvestra house, exactly fitted Morales, and as a quantity of matches were found in his pocket he was taken to the city prison and booked in detinue by order of Acting Lieutenant Lane.

ART CAUSES A BIG RUMPUS IN HOUSE

Declares That Roosevelt Gave Order in Violation of the Law

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—A proposition to establish an art commission to decide upon the artistic features of statues, monuments and buildings to be erected in the city of Washington, aroused a storm of protest in the House yesterday. The bill was passed after an extended debate.

Representative Mann, pointing to the new building erected for the department of Agriculture declared that the "future place will not be hot enough to properly singe the man who provided for the first story below ground, where the employees of the government are obliged to work."

Instead of completing a building for the Department of Agriculture, Mr. Mann said that the committee in charge of plans for that structure built two separate wings, depending on future appropriations by congress to finish the structures, in open violation of the law.

"President Roosevelt," he said, "ordered that work done in open violation of the law."

"I would like to have an art commission smash some of our works of art in this capital city," declared Mr. Stuyvenberg.

CUBAN POSTAGE STAMPS DEPICT FAMOUS GENERALS
NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Printing of a new issue of Cuban postage and revenue stamps has just been completed. The Cuban government has discarded the old design used for several years and substituted portraits of men who distinguished themselves in the military service of the country. These include General Maximo Gomez, whose likeness appears on the two-cent stamp, General Antonio Maceo, the negro insurgent chief, and General Calixto Garcia.

The stamps range in denomination from one cent to one dollar.

Snow Carnival at Truckee Will See Midwinter Sports

One of the contestants at Truckee's Ski Jumping contest in the Mid-Winter Carnival.

TRUCKEE, Feb. 10.—All preparations for Truckee's snow carnival is now complete and awaiting arrival of visitors to enjoy the sports next Saturday and Sunday. Five experienced ski jumpers have listed to jump for the cash prizes, as well as a number of local amateurs who can skip the ground without a drag fifty feet and better. Other attractions will be women on skis coasting down steep mountain sides without a pole.

The carnival committee have many toboggans for visitors to participate in free coasting as well as a number of pairs of skis. All these are free to the people.

The snow and ice were never in better condition for sleighing, skating and coasting. The storms of last Monday and Tuesday have covered the ground with another foot of snow, making the pleasure of heating through the heavenly feathers fun that will never be forgotten.

All the mountain roads leading to Lake Tahoe, Donner Lake and to Hobart Mills are in excellent condition. Fifty head of horses are now in service keeping the road packed and in smooth shape for the carnival crowd expected in Truckee Saturday and Sunday.

With a hundred head of horses, sleighs, bobsleds, sledge or more toboggans and many pairs of skis, Truckee will be in a position to give every one a real, genuine, snowy experience.

The ski jumpers with the exception of one are all Swedes and Norwegians, individuals who have had their training in ski jumping in their native country. The mountain sides are not too steep for Messrs. Lund, Brothers, Gundersen, Johnson, Rogers and others who perhaps will compete for the prizes but have not yet written to the committee.

GOVERNMENT MAY BUY HIGHWAY OF CLAIMANTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Once a year a mountaineer, employed by Boston capitalists and heirs, takes a lonely drive over the old Tioga road, built in the early California days from Crocker, Tuolumne county, to the Tioga mine far in the mountains back of Hetch-Hetchy valley.

For many years has the annual journey been made, with a view to preserving the rights of possession and ownership in the hope that the government would buy the well constructed road, most of it now being embraced in the Yosemite National Park, but Attorney General Wickham doubts if the mile-traveler's yearly trip in the ruins of the mine of spectacular and mysterious character has constituted the use of the franchise.

He has been asked for an opinion by Secretary Ballinger, who desires to gain possession of the road and repair it, so as to make accessible some of the wildest and grandest scenery to be found in the Sierra.

FORMER WIFE DENIES DIVORCE FROM SULLIVAN

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 10.—Mrs. Anne Bates Sullivan, who was and, according to her statement, still is, the wife of the pugilist John L. Sullivan, who recently went through a marriage ceremony with another woman and who is now in his honeymoon on the ocean, said today that she is still the legal wife of Sullivan. She also said she did not care about his wedding if he will only stay away and not bother her.

"Yes," she said, "I see he's married again, but when did he get a divorce from me. I would like to know? I noticed that he got away awfully quick after the marriage," said Mrs. Sullivan with a look that meant volition, "but he will be back. She's welcome to all the happiness she will have with him."

"Some time ago I wrote to the clerk of the court at Chicago and asked him to send me a copy of the divorce papers which Mr. Sullivan was said to have got there. I received a letter this morning saying there are no papers there with my signature."

FIRE FIGHTERS OVERCOME BY SMOKE ARE RESCUED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—Flames caused damage amounting to $100,000 in the sales depot of the Fisk Rubber Company at 418 Golden Gate avenue this city last night. Four men were overcome while fighting the flames, but they were revived and returned to their posts.

Great quantities of gasoline and oil were stored in the basement of the structure and the flames made the task of the firemen extremely difficult. Captain Capelli, Lieutenant Bury and Firemen Robert Harrigan and W. Puller inhaled the gases and were rendered unconscious. They were tended by their comrades and upon reviving insisted on rejoining in the battle against the flames.

The building was a one-story brick and frame structure. The greatest damage occurred in the rear, where the blaze originated. By a peculiar coincidence a fire started in the same spot Tuesday morning, but was quenched before it had gained headway.

The goods destroyed consisted mostly of tires and other automobile goods.

AUGURS ANOTHER FINANCIAL PANIC

Economist Babson Sees One Coming—To Arrive in Two Years.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Another financial panic is to be expected in the United States in 1912, according to Edgar W. Babson, the economist. He reaches this conclusion, he says, from study and observation of the financial history of the last century. About a quarter of the present period of prosperity has gone, he says, but the top of the upward movement has not yet been reached. That the high point of stock exchange prices usually comes after one-third to one-half of the prosperous years have been enjoyed.

Speaking before the West Side Y. M. C. A., Mr. Babson urged that any one who was determined to play the market and desired to do so as safely as possible, should purchase on a generous margin (ten of the leading stocks). When they were high, he should sell and put his money in the bank. When stocks were low he should buy in again.

MRS. SAGE GIVES TO SOUTHERN CHARITIES

CALVESTON, Texas, Feb. 10.—About ten or twelve eleemosynary institutions and charitable societies are beneficiaries of Russell Sage's millions in amounts ranging from $500 to $25,000, by reason of the visit from Mrs. Russell Sage to Texas. She denied herself to all newspaper interviews. "I was high, he should sell and put his money in the bank. When stocks were low he should buy in again."

The reported contributions made to charitable causes amount to something between $140,000 and $150,000, but the list is not complete as there are several donations ranging from $500 to $3000 not given out.

The charitable ward of a large hospital in El Paso is to receive $25,000. An orphan asylum in Nevada gets $20,000, and the sanatorium fund for tuberculosis patients near Brackettville will be swelled by $25,000. Del Rio Home for Homeless Children receives $15,000. $10,000 for a sanatorium at Boerne and Pecos gets $15,000 for a hospital for consumptives.

FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR.
John Salas who was convicted of selling liquor without a license, was fined $100 with the alternative of fifty days in the city prison by Judge Smith yesterday.

Salas conducts a pool and billiard hall and during the consideration of his case the court strongly condemned the lower class of these resorts as deadfalls for young men and boys.

Saved From Awful Peril.
"I never felt so near my grave," writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. F. No. 3, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down. I lost pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 150 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of group." Infallible for Coughs and Colds, it's the most certain remedy for LaGrippe, Asthma, desperate lung trouble and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Osgood Bros.

HAWAIIAN QUEEN GIVES UP FIGHT

Congress Refuses to Compensate Her for the Crown Lands.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Ex-Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii is in Chicago from Washington, where she made her last and futile plea to have Congress compensate her for the crown lands which were taken from her by the United States Government at the time of the island revolution in 1893. Discouraged in her mission and broken down in health, the former ruler, who has reached the age of three score and ten, is going back to the land of her former splendor, where the people still call her Queen. Liliuokalani is now a poor woman. From the station she went to the Congress Hotel in an omnibus, with a crowd of immigrants who were being transferred to the Illinois Central Station. The hotel was crowded, as were all the other big hotels, and the ex-Queen was forced to put up at a small South Side hotel.

The ex-Queen has not the buoyancy which she possessed on her last visit here, and her hair has turned completely white.

AVIATOR JOHNSON WILL FLY IN THE SIERRAS

MARYSVILLE, Feb. 10.—Aviator Frank H. Johnson of San Francisco will give an exhibition at the Knights recreation park Saturday and Sunday. Announcement was made today that Johnson would attempt to leave the park, circle around the Sierran Buttes, 12 miles away, and return to the park.

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 10.—Much interest is felt in the airship which is being built by A. J. Hinkler, a local dentist. For the last two years Hinkler has been at work on his invention, which he calls the "Skyark."

The ship is unique in construction, being of the helicopter type. It is shaped like a torpedo, with lifting fans fore and aft. The inventor expects to test the flying powers of his machine here when certain parts arrive from the east.

RENO PASTOR MAY TAKE CHURCH IN ALAMEDA

RENO, Feb. 10.—The Rev. C. L. Moars, pastor of the Congregational Church here for the past six years, finds himself being called to two churches at the same time, having been a candidate for neither position. Dr. Charles R. Brown of Oakland requested Mr. Moars to supply the pulpit at Alameda recently. Soon after arriving home Mr. Moars received the call to take the pastorate of Plymouth Church, San Francisco, and later one from the First Congregational Church of Alameda at $2500 per year, the pastorate to begin any time between now and August. He has declined the Plymouth Church call, but is considering that from Alameda.

CHILDREN BURNED WHILE PARENTS ARE AT FUNERAL

JAMESTOWN, N. D., Feb. 10.—While Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Diebenger, prominent residents of Jamestown, were attending a funeral, in a near-by church today, their two sons, aged 6 and 2 years, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home.

SMOKERS OF BIT CIGARS CAN SAVE THIRTY DOLLARS A YEAR

If Bought Right, Smoker Can Save Enough on Cigars in 12 Months to Get New Suit of Clothes—Average Individual Pays 20 Per Cent More Than Necessary

Cigar men who have studied the market claim that around San Francisco bay more bit cigars are smoked in proportion to the population than in any other district of the United States. It is now estimated that there are 300,000 steady smokers of two-for-a-quarter cigars in the territory between San Luis Obispo and Sacramento, who consume on an average of from 3 to 4 cigars a day each. This estimate does not include smokers of nickel cigars, cigarettes or pipe tobacco. The bulk of the smokers reside in San Francisco, with Oakland well in the lead for second place.

"Slot machines had the effect of making more smokers of bit cigars than any other one feature," said Fred Osgood recently. "The play was based upon the bit article, and following the lines of least resistance, the operator took his gains in bit cigars. The abolition of machines has materially cut into the business and, although other apparatus have been arranged to take their place, they all lack the fascination and reasonably fair return of the card device."

"Buying cigars, as a consequence, has been placed upon a purely commercial basis, and the smoker deprived of his opportunity to 'take a chance,' is beginning to look about for a place to buy his cigars to the best of advantage," continued Osgood. "The standard brands, such as Optimum, El Sidelos, Principe de Gales, Belmonts, etc., are as staple as gold and smokers have so long paid 12 1/2¢ for the full weight sizes that many of them think this is the rock-bottom retail price. This is not so, because the larger sizes of any one of the better brands of bit cigars can be sold at a fair profit for 10¢ each, and are being sold right along at our drug stores—corners of 12th and Washington and 7th and Broadway—at this price."

"And why shouldn't it be so?" added Osgood. "We cut the prices on drugs, patent medicines, trunks, etc., and why should we not cut prices on cigars? At 10¢ each we get $100 here? At 12 1/2¢ each we get $125. A thousand, which is plenty of profit and more than pays the expenses of a department that draws us a great deal of additional business. If the average smoker of bit cigars saves 2 1/2¢ on every cigar he smokes, he saves from 7 1/2¢ to 10¢ a day, which in a year's time, figures up to $30 or $35, which is an item worth considering."

BURGGLARS ATTEND TO THE WANTS OF INVALID VICTIM

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Two thieves stopped in their work of ransacking a flat yesterday afternoon to wait upon a sick man who was alone in the room. They gave him water and set it on a chair and then turned his pillow.

The robbers' patient was J. S. McCullough, 4131 Indiana avenue. "If you make a noise we will kill you," said one of the thieves. "Now be good and we'll treat you right."

After they had ransacked a bureau in the bedroom one of the robbers went to the other rooms in quest of valuables and his companion remained with the sick man, observing the helplessness of the patient, the burglar volunteered to give him his medicine. He called for "pal" to bring a glass of water "for de gent."

Some small articles of jewelry were taken by the thieves, who positively bowed themselves out.

LUNATICS BY LAW YET SANE IN FACT

Superintendent of Matteawan Hospital Makes Startling Report.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Feb. 10.—The annual report of Dr. Robert Lamb, of the Matteawan State Hospital where Harry K. Thaw is confined, has just been made public. Discussing men admitted to that institution during his term as superintendent, Dr. Lamb says that there are a half dozen or more noted criminals among them whose cases are far removed from any defined type of insanity.

"What disposition shall be made of these cases?" he asked. "In the eye of the law they are lunatics. The courts have made inquiry and determined this fact. Commitment here far removed from any defined type of insanity."

A skilled physician might have examined any of them on the day of admission and found no symptoms of actual mental disease. He might have made continued examinations at any time during their residence. His results would have been equally negative.

The report mentions no names and gives no indication as to whether Dr. Lamb had Thaw in mind in writing this report.

Dr. Lamb, in conclusion calls attention to the fact that under the present law no provision exists whereby the hospital authorities may inform the court that in their opinion that men are not insane. He urges a change in the law, giving him the right to inform the court of his opinion and to recommend either a limited parole or release.
